Evangelical Conference.

INTERESTING PROCEEDINGS.

NEW YORK, October 3, 1873.

Evangelical Conference.

The formal opening of the great Evangelical Conference took place this morning in Steinway Hall, previous to which, however, prayer for its success was offered in Madison Square Church. Long before ten and a half o'clock, the time for the commencement of the exercises, the audience room of Steinway Hall was crowded in every part. The Oriental delegates, wearing their turbans, were the conspicuous personages in the vast assembly, and attracted general attention. Promptly at the appointed hour, Hon. Wm. E. Dodge called the convention to order and made an address, in which he expressed the hope that the delegates would be able to leave the Atlantic seaboard, and witness for themselves the grand progress made by the country, and contemplate the magnificence of its inland seas and rivers and mountains.

Mr. Dodge concluded his address by giving a cordial welcome to the delegates and inviting Divine blessings upon their deliberations.

A hymn in praise was then sung, and religious exercises followed, which were participated in by Rev. Dr. Rigg, of London, Rev. Prochet, of Italy, and the Dean of Canterbury.

Rev. Dr. Schaff began to read the list of delegates, but the reading was dispensed with, as a printed list will be furnished.

A permanent organization was effected by the selection of Dr. Theodore D Woolsey for President, and Dr. S. J. Prime for General Secretary. A long list of Vice Presidents and honorary secretaries was also read.

After the address of the President, Rev. M. Prochet, of Italy, spoke of the condition of the Church of Christ in that country. He said the Pope is conscious of diminished power, and that all priests do not believe in his assumptions.

The adjourned meeting of the Alliance was held in the Young Men's Christian Association buildings at 2 P. M. The hall was well filled.

Rev. Mr. Stuart made a report on the state of religion in Holland. He said the Dutch were mainly Calvanistic Protestant people. The Catholics had many adherents, and were making strenuous efforts to advance themselves. The Church of Rome was not the greatest enemy of religion. It was a spirit of unbelief among the people. After the Napoleonic war religious indifference spread abroad.

At this stage the President announced that a telegram has just been received from Berlin, congratulating the Alliance.

The President announced that any remarks made by speakers disparaging to other countries were not sanctioned by the committee, and they should not be held responsible for them.

Rev. H. Kournmacher gave a picture of Protestant life in Germany. He contended that the German nation owed its existence to Christianity, which well sustained it. Without this Christianity the German nation could not exist. If it tried to do so it would soon bring itself into a decline. He spoke enthusiastically of the religious feeling of the people, who were governed by an Emperor, who was a fitting commander of the people, and with whom he was fully in sympathy in the present conflict with the Romish hierarchy, and he (the speaker) should say that his heart was with that Government.

Rev. Dr. Schaff gave a brief account of his visit to the Emperor of Germany, by whom he was most cordially received, and who expressed his admiration for the Alliance. The Emperor was glad that the Alliance should meet at this time, so that the utmost opposition could be given to the power of infidelity and superstition.

Rev. E. Rochel, of Switzerland, Rev. Mr. Freedland, of Spain, and Mr. Rassaci, of Greece, delivered short addresses.

An invitation was received from Peter Cooper for the delegates to visit Cooper Institute. George H. Stewart, of Philadelphia, invited the delegates to visit that city, and announced that the Pennsylvania Railway Company would furnish a special train for the purpose, free of expense.

The closing address was made by Rev. Mr. Arnett, of Brussels, at the close of which the Doxology was sung and a recess taken till 7½ o'clock.

An evening session of the Evangelical conference was held this evening in St. Paul's M. E. church, Rev. Dr. Foss, on the corner of Twenty-second street and Fourth avenue—the fashionable Methodist church of the city. The church was crowded to the doors, and members of the audience remained standing over two hours. Lord Alfred Churchill, of London, presided.

After singing a hymn by the assemblage and prayer by Rev. Mr. Weldon, of London, the chairman excused himself from making a speech, and called upon Rev. James Davis, Secretary of the Alliance, to read a paper which he had prepared.

Mr. Davis said he had prepared a paper on the "Origin, progress and usefulness of the world-wide Evangelical Alliance." He would not, however, read it, but hand it to the chairman to be given to the press. Mr. Davis then went on to say that he once heard a speaker at a meeting of the Alliance in Liverpool speak about the United States annexing Liverpool. Now, it happened that the British Alliance had annexed the United States. [Laughter.] The Evangelical Conference in Berlin introduced Sabbath Schools, and the conference in Geneva in 1861 was a second reformation for that land. Committees were formed in various places in consequence, and many manufacturers of watches closed their workshops on Sunday and gave a noble example of Christian observance of the Lord's day. The Evangelical meeting in Amsterdam was also followed by blessings, and now we have met here, a body of Christians of both hemispheres, not to exalt any man, priest or pope, but to diffuse the Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ. Considering the increased communication between Europe and America, and the threads beneath the ocean carrying constant messages between both; considering also the settlement of the Alabama question by the most Christian manner of settlement, and considering that multitudes from all countries are constantly arriving on these hospitable shores, the Atlantic is no longer anything but a narrow river, across which Christians shake hands in cordial sympathy and co-operation for the advancement of God's kingdom. The Atlantic, he continued, is a great power. Our motto is that over the platform in Association Hall—"In essentials, Purity; in non-essentials, Liberty; in all things, Charity." Rome boasts of its unity. It is the unity of slavery, with the word of God locked up and the consciences of men handed over to priests. We desire to show the world a true unity in things pertaining to the salvation of the soul and the honor of God, and with liberty in all essentials.

Having returned thanks for the noble hospitality given to the foreign delegates, the speaker concluded as follows: It seems to me as if I were transported to the Isle of Palmos, when an angel had been sent to show the great vision which delighted the beloved disciple when he looked and saw a multitude whom no man could number, from every tribe and kingdom and tongue, standing before the throne with palms in their hands and singing anthems and praise to the Redeemer. The question was asked—"Who are these?"—and the answer is (not that these glorified spirits are of any one particular nation or denomination, but): "These are they who have washed their robes and made them white in the blood of the Lamb, therefore they are before the throne." [Applause.]

The next speaker was Rev. J. S. Russell, also Secretary of the British Alliance. He thanked God that this country was selected as the theatre to work on the great problems, and prayed God to bless it during all the ages of its national existence. He hoped something would be done to do away with the reproach of this disunion, and the great magnet that attracted them from England was a hope that they would return with the assurance that something had been done to draw in closer union the churches of America and England and all other Christian churches. Was it not time they should be sick of denominationalism, a word not found in the Scripture from Genesis to Revelation? If St. Paul was at their meeting last night he would be puzzled at the variety of denominations there. Would he not say "Brethren, is this the state of things I left in the Christian Church. What mean you by these denominations?" When they begun to form a denomination in Corinth under the name of Paul and Peter and Apollo, he was not gratified at being made the founder of the party, but he asked, "Is Christ divided?" Were you baptized in the name of Apollo? I hold, said the speaker, that the great cause which introduced these denominations into the Church is needless multiplication of the article of faith. [Applause.] Every truth is not an article of faith or a test of admission to the Church. [Applause.] When I go to the Scriptures I find but one name above all names—Jesus—always, and that is the one bond of union and the test of admission to the Church of the Lord Jesus. [Applause.] Let our motto be that on your American banner—"E Pluribus Unum." Then we can sing the glorious heavenly anthem "Glory to God on earth, peace to men of good will." [Applause.]

Rev. Mr. Weldon, of London, being called upon to address the Conference, explained his idea of Christian unity. He said he would give as a motto "E Pluribus Unum," which he would translate "Unity in Variety." [Applause.] As States have their own laws, and there is a superior legislature over all, so let all Christian denominations retain their technical differences, and form unity in variety. Internal differences in the Church keep the thoughtless away from the Divine truth by a combination in essentials. The Christians of the world give an outspoken note that whatever might be their technical or mechanical differences, there is no real difference between men bound by one spirit and one eternal Lord.

A hymn was then sung.

The Dean of Canterbury then addressed the Conference. He thought if denominationalism ceased the result would be stagnation. It was a thing to be regretted, but it would continue. We should regard it, however, as being concerned with small things. While we differ on the government of churches, and even on the meaning of passages of the Scriptures, we could show the world that we are agreed on essential things. We bring too much bitterness into our differences of opinion. We are hard upon the people for being infallible, but we are bitter against others for differing from us, forgetful of our imperfect state, and that we are but seekers after truth. Progress toward truth is made by differences of opinion. The fault is in the bitterness of the controversy. If we follow Christian charity we should not carry on these debates to silence the other party, but as our contributions to truth. The things we dispute about, after all, are not matters that concern our daily life, but are to a great extent matters of speculation. Remembering this we should feel, that though we are divided into families, we are but one household in Christ, as the United States, though many, form one Empire.

A paper by the late Prof. Merle D. Aubrique, of Geneva, and transmitted by his widow to Dr. Schaff, was then read by Rev. Dr. Aiken. The proceedings were closed with the singing of the Doxology and benediction by Rev. Dr. Day.

Association Hall was crowded to-night, one section of the Evangelical Alliance being in session there. Rev. A. De Cappet, B. D., of Paris, was introduced, and said Protestantism in France is a comparatively weak organization, which holds its own, but does not sensibly increase. Before the late war there were about a million Protestants in France. Notwithstanding the smallness of numbers, Evangelization in France was no vain work.

Dr. Fish, of Paris, said that there were three classes of Protestants in France—Baptists, Methodists and Free Church. The Baptists had already one fine church in Paris, which, it was only just to say, had been built largely by the contributions of Americans. The Methodists in France number about 2,000, and are confined chiefly to the south. The Free Church of France has about twenty six houses of worship. The salary of a country pastor, on which he and his family have to live, is only three hundred and sixty dollars a year. Many of the congregations are composed of converted Roman Catholics. A pastor of one of the Free churches is an honored member of the National Assembly, where his voice is heard in defence of political liberty, as in the pulpit in defence of religious freedom. Let the Republic stand five years more, and he believed that they should have a complete separation of the Church and State, as in this country.

After other addresses, the Conference adjourned.

Hospitalities to the Evangelical Alliance.

Major Havemeyer has sent a communication to the Board of Aldermen suggesting that a special meeting of the Board be held to tender the hospitalities of the city to the Evangelical Alliance.

Business Resumptions.

The National Trust Company will resume on Monday morning.

Kidder & Co. settled at thirty cents on the dollar, and resumed.

An Expulsion Explained.

The expulsion of Grinnell & Co. from the Stock Exchange was caused by their refusal to answer important questions asked by the Governing Committee relative to the bankruptcy proceedings.

YELLOW FEVER.

New York.

NEW YORK, October 3.—At the inspections of Quarantine stations to-day by Gov. Dix, the Quarantine Commissioners and a large number of members of the press and representatives of shipping interests, it was stated by Health Officer Vanderpool that yellow fever had existed at the Lower Quarantine station at all times from June 1st till October 1st. The total number of cases was sixty-four, and deaths thirteen. Information as to the actual severity of the disease had been withheld from the press to prevent alarmists injuring the commerce of the port, the health officers considering that so long as the disease, imported from foreign ports was kept in the lower bay, and prevented from entering the city, it was unwise to needlessly alarm the public.

Memphis.

MEMPHIS, October 3.—There were twenty-one yellow fever interments to day. The Odd Fellows are treating twenty yellow fever patients. They have lost eighty, and have exhausted their supply of funds, and ask help from Odd Fellow lodges throughout the country. The St. Andrew's Society also earnestly appeal to their brethren elsewhere for pecuniary aid.

PHILADELPHIA.

Proposal for a Settlement by Jay Cooke & Co.

PHILADELPHIA, October 3.—A special dispatch from Washington says ex-Governor Cooke, in conversation yesterday, announced that the firm of Jay Cooke & Co. will soon make a proposition to their creditors for the purpose of enabling it to resume business. The members of the firm have pooled their private property and personal assets, and will place it at the command of their creditors in liquidation of their indebtedness. They propose to pay every cent they owe, both principal and interest. The details of the proposition will be made public in due time.

CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.

The Article on Legislature—Section Concerning "Corrupt Solicitation of Members Passed"—Division of Luzerne County—Resignation of Judge Black—The Judiciary's Article.

PHILADELPHIA, October 2, 1873.

Afternoon Session.

The Constitutional Convention this afternoon passed the section relative to Legislative boring, as follows:

"The offense of corrupt solicitation of members of the General Assembly, or of public officers of the State, or of any municipal division thereof, and any occupation or practice of solicitation of such members or officers for or against the passage of any law or municipal ordinance, shall be defined by law, and such offense shall be punishable by fine and imprisonment."

DIVISION OF LUZERNE COUNTY.

An ineffectual effort was made to reconsider Mr. Dunning's amendment of the previous day, the point of which was to allow the Legislature to pass a special law for dividing Luzerne county.

Mr. W. H. Palmer, of Luzerne, then moved to amend the amendment, so as to make a division of the county by an Act of Assembly conditional upon a vote in its favor by the people of the county. In reply to Messrs. Pugh and Dunning on the previous day, he contended that the Court facilities of Luzerne were abundant for the whole county; that the county was so thoroughly intersected by railroads as to enable every man within it to reach the county seat within four hours; that while in former years, without these facilities, there may have been some necessity for a division, no such necessity now existed, and that popular feeling in the county was largely opposed to division.

Messrs. Dunning and Pugh followed in opposition to, and Messrs. Woodward and Lilly in favor of Mr. Palmer's amendment. The amendment prevailed. Ayes, 67; noes, 29.

CRIMINATING TESTIMONY.

On motion of Mr. Armstrong the following was inserted in the article: "Any person may be compelled to testify in any lawful investigation or judicial proceedings against any person who may be charged with having committed the offense of bribery or corrupt solicitation, or practice of solicitation, and shall not be permitted to withhold his testimony upon the ground that it may criminate himself or subject him to public infamy; but such testimony shall not afterwards be used against him in any judicial proceedings, except for perjury in giving such testimony; and any person convicted of either of the offenses aforesaid shall, as part of the punishment therefor, be disqualified from holding any office or position of honor, trust or profit in this Commonwealth."

The article was then passed, and will be prepared for submission as part of the new constitution, to a vote of the people.

RESIGNATION OF JUDGE BLACK.

Judge Woodward presented the resignation of Hon. J. S. Black, who was elected on the Democratic ticket as a delegate at large. He said that Judge Black's absence was necessitated by his professional business in the United States Supreme Court, much of which he had already sacrificed by his attendance upon the Convention in which he had served without compensation. Some discussion ensued upon the expediency of accepting the resignation in view of the possibility of Judge Black returning to his seat, and the desirability of securing his signature as a member to the new Constitution. The subject was disposed of by laying on the table a motion by Judge Woodward to accept the resignation; ayes 45, noes 37.

Friday's Morning Session.

Judge Woodward moved to take from the table his motion, offered yesterday, to accept the resignation of Judge Black, and gave notice that he should call it up every morning until it should be agreed to.

On motion, the ayes and nays were ordered, and it was lost—ayes 31, nays 57.

THE JUDICIARY.

The Convention, on motion, took up on third reading the article on the Judiciary, which was read.

Mr. Woodward, of Philadelphia, moved to amend by striking out of Section Second the word seven and insert five, so that it will read, "The Supreme Court shall consist of five Judges." Not agreed to.

Mr. Boyd, of Montgomery, moved to go into Committee of the Whole to strike out the thirty-first section, giving the Legislature authority to abolish the office of Associate Judge. Agreed to, and the section was expunged.

Mr. Boyd then moved to re-insert in the thirty-second section the sentence stricken out by the Committee on Revision. Agreed to—ayes 53, nays 39, and the section was adopted and reads as follows:

"Whenever a county shall contain forty thousand and five hundred inhabitants, it shall constitute a separate judicial district, and shall elect one judge learned in the law, and the Legislature shall provide for additional judges, as the business of said district may require. Counties containing a population less than is sufficient to constitute separate districts shall be formed into convenient single districts, or if necessary may be attached to contiguous districts, as the Legislature may provide. The office of Associate Judge not learned in the law is abolished in counties forming separate districts, but the several Associate Judges in office when this Constitution shall be adopted shall serve for their unexpired terms."

CIVIL WAR IN AZIA.

FRANCE.

Political Agitation.

PARIS, October 3.—The city has been full of conflicting rumors to-day in regard to the political situation. The report which gained the most currency and caused the greatest excitement was one stating that the Permanent Committee of the Assembly would order that body to meet on the 13th inst., and that the Government officials now absent from Versailles had been ordered to proceed there immediately, but a dispatch from official sources in Versailles pronounces it untrue.

The Count de Chambord to Issue a Manifesto.

PARIS, October 3.—The Count de Chambord will issue a manifesto next week.

Deputies of the Left Calling on Thiers.

President Thiers, since his return to Paris, has received visits from a large number of Deputies of the Left.

The Left Centre in Favor of a Conservative Republic.

M. Leon Say, presiding officer of the Deputies of the Left Centre, has issued a circular calling a meeting of the members of the party on the 23d inst., and declaring in favor of a Conservative Republic.

The Fight for Supremacy.

PARIS, October 3.—The Republicans are redoubling their efforts to thwart the designs of the Monarchists. M. Thiers, Dufaure, Say and Perier held a conference last week. All sections of the Left are united, the extremists promising to submit to the guidance of the moderators. The Republican journals of every shade of opinion support all the candidates for the Assembly who pledge themselves to vote for the Republic without regard to their antecedents. Petitions are in circulation addressed to wavering deputies, and urging them to support the Republic. M. de Remusat, at the request of ex President Thiers, has consented to contest an election in the Department of Garonne against the candidate of the Monarchists. The programme of the Conservatives, on the meeting of the Assembly, will be the restoration of royalty, constitutional and parliamentary government, a revision of territory into electoral districts, and the immediate nomination of a Lieutenant General of the Kingdom.

ASIA.

Civil War.

NEW YORK, October 3.—A special dispatch says that Central Asia is in an extensively disturbed condition. Civil war is raging in Khokan against their ruler, Khudoyar Khan. The Turcomans of the deserts around Khiva are obstinately fighting the Russians; the Afghans are fighting the Persians and carrying on dangerous intrigues with Emir of Bokhara, and Yakoub Beges, of Kashgir, is fighting the Chinese at the extreme limit of their empire. Bokhara seems to be the point of contention. It is altogether probable that the Russian Emperor will before long be compelled in self-defence to take towards Bokhara the same course he has recently taken towards Khiva, and permanently occupy the territory and reduce it to the condition of a Russian dependency.

LONDON, October 3.—$775,000 in bullion were shipped from Liverpool for New York yesterday, and $430,000 for Montreal.

Five Persons Killed by a Falling Chimney.

A chimney two hundred and twenty feet high, in the village of North Fleet, fell to day, killing five persons and maiming a dozen others.

CALIFORNIA.

The Modoc Indians—Before the Execution.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 3.—The execution of the Modocs will be in the presence of the Klamath and other Indians, for the purpose of making a wholesome impression on their minds. Whites from all parts of the country are on the spot to witness the tragedy of Captain Jack's death. The remainder of his tribe will not be surrendered to or given to the civil authorities, but will be transferred to Fort Russell, Wyoming Territory. The remnant amounts to one hundred and fifty-six men, women and children. Captain Hasbrouck will escort them to the fort with the Fourth Artillery.

NEW YORK, October 3.—A Fort Klamath special, in speaking of the gallows on which Captain Jack and his associates are to be executed to-day, says: The uprights stand about seventeen feet high, surmounted by a cross beam thirty feet in length. The platform, set on pine poles, is eight feet below the beam, solid at the back and with a hinged front, on which the criminals will be placed. The cutting of a single rope will upset the three supports of the front of the platform, and will give the six murderers a six-foot drop. Lieutenant Colonel Hoge will officiate as Provost Marshal and superintend the adjusting of the noose by sergeants and non-commissioned officers. The sentences and findings of the Military Commission will be read by Lieutenant Kingsbury, and translated by Mr. Biddle, of Yreka.

WEATHER REPORT.

For the South Atlantic States, northeast winds, veering to southeast, with clear weather, except on the coast of Georgia and Florida.

For the Middle States, southeasterly winds, high temperature and increasing cloudiness.

For the lower lake region, southeast winds, veering to southwest, with clouds and rain.

For New England, northerly winds, veering northeast, with cool and partly cloudy weather.

For the Ohio valley, northerly winds, veering to southwest, with cloudy weather.

For the lower Missouri valley, northwesterly winds, with clearing weather.

For the upper lakes, falling barometer, increasing northeast winds, clouds and rain.

THE RIVERS.

CINCINNATI, October 3.—River 3 feet 6 inches; very slowly declining.

Yesterday's Cincinnati Gazette says: Sam. Dunbar and W. C Miller are here, negotiating for the purchase of the United States Mail Line Company, intending to locate it at Gallipolis. .....The J. N. Phillips is engaged in pumping out the ore barge sunk by the John Gilmore at Bold Face. It is lying at the Covington wharf, below Scott street.... Capt. G. W. Ebert, of Pittsburgh, and Capt. John Sinzick, of Louisville, are in the city.... James Ratterbough, second engineer of the Keystone, died about the middle of last week, near Bowlesville....James S. Calvin, chief engineer, died on the Rose Hite, on Saturday night, at Rockport. Captain James M. Rose, of the same boat, died at Shawneetown on Wednesday.... ....Wharfage receipts for the week ending last night amounted to $58....Captain James S. Wise has advices from the British Consul at St. Louis, that John White, who formerly piloted between Pittsburgh and Cincinnati, and is now about sixty years old, has fallen heir to a considerable property in Scotland. The whereabouts of the aforesaid John White is not known at present and should this notice meet his eye, he is requested to report to Captain Wise for identification and a snug fortune....At the meeting of the Ohio River Commissioners at Louisville, the following resolution, presented by Thomas Sherlock, of Ohio, was adopted:

Resolved, That the Board of Commissioners of the seven Ohio Valley States for the improvement of the Ohio river respectfully ask the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States to take immediate means to secure possession of the Louisville & Portland Canal, under the act of Congress at its last session, and under that only such tolls be collected as that act provides for.

St. Louis collected $5,095 wharfage from steamboats and barges in September.

EVANSVILLE, October 3.—Clear and warm; mercury 52 to 76. River fallen 1¼ inches in the last forty eight hours, now 1 foot above low water of 1867, 20 inches to Louisville, and 3 feet to Cairo. Up—Laura Davis, 11 P. M.; Fayette and Roberts, 9 A. M. Down—Ella Hughes, 7:30; Bernard, 10. No business to-day.

Important Meeting of Manufacturers Yesterday.

The Situation under Discussion—A Plan to Bridge Over the Difficulty—The Employees to be Paid Half Cash—The Mills to be Kept Running—A Concert of Action Agreed Upon—What Our Manufacturers Think of Affairs.

Yesterday afternoon one of the most important meetings ever held in Pittsburgh was convened at Lafayette Hall, in pursuance of a call circulated the evening previous and published in the morning papers. The call, which gathered our business men together, was published in our advertising columns, and read as follows:

NOTICE—CALL FOR A MEETING OF MANUFACTURERS.

The undersigned, feeling that some concerted action should be had by the manufacturers of this vicinity in reference to the present condition of financial affairs, and to determine what course to pursue in regard to the running of their establishments, do hereby request every manufacturing establishment in this vicinity to be represented at a meeting, to be held at

LAFAYETTE HALL, ON FRIDAY AFTERNOON, OCT. 3, AT 3 O'CLOCK, to consider the subject, and take such action as may be deemed expedient to keep their works in operation.

PITTSBURGH, October 2, 1873.

The call was pretty generally canvassed in business circles during the morning and the

INTEREST TAKEN IN THE MATTER

was very clearly demonstrated by the attendance.

At the appointed hour, three o'clock, the banqueting room in which the meeting was held, was nearly filled with representatives from every branch of our manufactures, and in a few minutes the crowd had increased until the capacity of the apartment was fully tested. The attendance was not confined to manufacturers alone, but there were representatives of the business interests of Pittsburgh generally.

A few minutes after the hour, Mr. John S. Slagle called the meeting to order, and moved the election of Mr. James I. Bennett as chairman, which was agreed to.

Mr. Slagle, upon motion of Mr. Chalfant, was chosen Secretary.

Mr. A. E. W. Painter nominated as Vice Presidents, Messrs. Henry Lloyd, Jas. M. Hemphill, Robert Dalzell, Thomas Carnegie, and R. C. Gray, who were accordingly elected.

Mr. John W. Chalfant then moved in order that business might be transacted in proper form and with promptitude, that a Committee on Resolutions be appointed by the Chair.

The motion was carried, and the Chair appointed on the Committee Messrs. John W. Chalfant, J. Ernest Schwartz, M. W. Watson, John H. Ricketson, B. F. Jones, C. C. Hussey and A. E. W. Painter.

PREPARING BUSINESS.

The Committee retired to deliberate, and the Chair announced that during their absence the meeting was open for remarks from any gentleman who had suggestions to offer as to the best plan of procedure, to insure harmony in business circles.

There seemed to be no person desirous of anticipating any action of the Committee, and the interval during the Committee's consultation, was chiefly occupied by discussions, sotto voce, among the audience.

THE COMMITTEE'S REPORT.

In about half an hour the Committee returned and presented their report which was read by the Secretary as follows:

WHEREAS, While we believe the country was never more blessed with abundant crops, never so rich in material wealth, and our city, where all are profitably employed, was never stronger and richer in individual and aggregated wealth; yet on account of operations and speculation, set on foot elsewhere, in which we have no lot or parcel, the currency and exchanges of our country are disturbed; and our trusted and sound monied institutions have their receipts diminished, and cannot afford this community their accustomed accomodation, therefore we regard it proper and right that we should meet together and take some united action, if possible, thereby to relieve this community to some extent from its present trouble.

Resolved, In order that the employe and employer may each contribute to the best interests of the community, and relieve our moneyed institutions in a measure from the excessive drain of currency, we recommend that the manufacturers only make payments not to exceed one half the amount due the employes at each pay day on and after this date, until the currency and exchanges of the country assume their normal condition.

Resolved, By doing this the manufacturer and workingman will co-operate, and each contribute to the best interests of this community, insuring the running of the mills and factories, relieving the banks from the excessive drain of currency and aiding in restoring confidence, which alone is needed to give a complete return to our wonted prosperity.

Mr. Jacob Painter moved the acceptance of the report, which was agreed to.

The Chair then announced the subject under discussion.

WHAT WILL THE BANKS DO?

Mr. T. N. Miller desired information. He had heard that the banks would not discount any paper until after the 1st of November. If that was the case how then could manufacturers pay even half-wages to their employes. He thought they should know something definite from the banks before taking final action, and hoped that some gentleman present could speak for them.

Mr. R. S. Waring thought this question was one much to the point. They ought to hear from the banks. He thought it would be a discouraging thing to let the statement go forth that the workmen were only to be paid in half cash. He did not think this was necessary, and did not believe they should ask employes to take half cash when every manufacturer was perfectly

ABLE TO PAY UP IN FULL

every dollar, if the banks did their duty. The difficulty was not with the manufacturers but with the financial policy adopted by the banks. They had not fully co operated with business men and manufacturers. He believed it would have a bad effect to publish that the workmen would only receive half-cash. That would make them go to the banks and withdraw their little savings, and thus in the end the banks would not be relieved. It was not true that the banks were not able to accommodate their patrons. They could render proper accommodations if they pursued the right course. They should adopt a liberal policy for a few days and the trouble would be over. They should discount as freely as heretofore upon good paper, and draw on their reserve to the last dollar if necessary to do it. By this means business men would be accommodated, confidence would be increased, and the money paid out would come back again, and finances would right themselves. He believed this was the practical course to adopt. The banks were safe and strong, and there was no fear of them in any way. The only thing now was to adopt a practical plan by which the money paid out would return to them in the regular channel, and this he believed would be accomplished by the plan he proposed—that was, to have the banks accommodate as usual.

SHOULD BE MORE LIBERAL,

If the banks, however couldn't pay—if they couldn't accommodate them—of course the only relief was to adopt the suggestions contained in the resolutions. But before doing that he thought business men should know that the banks couldn't accommodate them.

A motion was made to adopt the preamble and resolutions.

The Chair desired to give ample time for all to speak on the subject. He wanted a full expression of opinion.

Mr. Bennett (leaving the chair) said that this action proposed by the Committee seemed to be misunderstood. It was but simply a postponement of payment of one half until money matters became easier.

So far as the argument about the banks was concerned he thought that was a mistake too. The banks he believed had been as liberal as possible. They had not only done that but were willing to do all in their power to aid the manufacturers and business men of Pittsburgh. (Applause.) But they couldn't go on and pay indefinitely, without getting in any receipts, and that was just the trouble. The could not get their exchanges cashed—could not get the money due them.

He doubted the wisdom of any change now from the policy they had adjusted. (Applause.) Perhaps if another policy had been adopted earlier it would have been better, but it wouldn't do to change now. Reports were coming in from all quarters, east, west, north and south, showing that

THE SITUATION WAS IMPROVING.

There was encouragement in these reports, and now this action proposed in the resolution from the Committee was merely to get over the temporary difficulty which was present now.

The call for this meeting had been signed by a number of representatives of leading manufacturing establishments, and would have been signed by many more had time been given. The interest in the matter was apparent by the large attendance—the largest assemblage of manufacturers he had ever seen in Pittsburgh. The meeting was for the double purpose of relieving the banks and the manufacturers. The manufacturing capital of the city was larger than that of the banks, and there was harmony. But the representatives of each saw the trouble. If the manufacturers went on paying out cash regularly each pay day, then the time would come when the banks couldn't give the money for they were not getting it in. This was

THE DIFFICULTY THEY HAD TO FACE.

The question might be asked why was this? The explanation was very simple. It was because in New York, the great money center of the country, the money was held in blocks by parties who wanted it for speculation. Pittsburgh had no lot in this, but felt it. The currency couldn't be had without paying 3 to 4 per cent. It was then no time for reflecting upon our home banks. [Applause.] He believed they would go as far as any manufacturer to relieve the manufacturers of Pittsburgh, but there was no use in asking impossibilities.

REASON FOR THE PRESSURE HERE.

The reason why the pressure was peculiarly felt in Pittsburgh was because of the character of the city's business. Pittsburgh was a manufacturing city, and the goods were sent all over the country. In payment for these goods drafts and notes and exchange were received. In ordinary business times these drafts were cashed at the home banks and sent on for collection, but the trouble was that these would not be cashed now, because when they were sent on for collection, the currency could not be secured. How, then, could the banks get the money to discount? They couldn't help financial troubles elsewhere.

Another reason for the pressure he thought, was because there was a little

HOARDING IN OUR MIDST.

The workingmen themselves were hoarding. In such a time as this they should bear their share of their burden just as well as their employers. And if they got half cash the burden would not be heavy for them. It was not cutting down their wages. It was not discharging any men. It was simply going on as before, giving each man full time and allowing him full wages. The manufacturers wanted to go on and fill their orders and keep their mills running. [Applause.] as long as they had orders to fill, and this was a plan to help them do it. By easing matters up a little in this way now, matters would all come round right in the end. This was a than had ever been experienced before. In other panics the trouble was that the currency was almost worthless—people didn't want it. In this panic it was nearly as good as gold, (applause) and everybody wanted it, (laughter and applause), and when they got it, they wanted to hold on. (Applause.) With such a currency it was easy to see the difference between this and other panics, and to understand how it was that the country could the sooner recuperate.

In conclusion he believed the plan proposed in the resolution was a good one under the circumstances. (Applause.) The currency was good, the country had never been more prosperous, and all that was needed now, to bridge over the temporary difficulty before them, was a little mutual confidence and a little mutual work. (Applause.)

NO REFLECTION ON THE BANKS.

Mr. Waring said he did not wish to be understood as reflecting upon the banks. He had undoubted faith in them, but he questioned the wisdom of the policy they had adopted. He thought they should have done as had been done in other cities. He believed, too, that even now free discounts would bring an easy money market, and he thought the banks could discount freely if they made the proper exertions.

Mr. Jacob Reese thought the speaker was mistaken. Everybody knew that Pittsburgh goods were sold in the West, and that Western banks now hold three-quarters of Pittsburgh's money. The question then was how could they get it back. Ordinarily it flowed back as freely as it went out, and thus the balance was kept even. But the case was different now. Now they wanted time. For several days there had been cries by telegraph from the West asking that protest on paper be waived, and every manufacturer has had to waive protest on his western paper, and in other instances had to take just what he could get. Sometimes it was a hundred dollars on a thousand, sometimes five hundred dollars on several thousand. That day he had just learned of of the trouble. His firm had a note which came due in St. Louis, and was collected by one of the strongest banks in that city. But when the bank got the money they kept it. They said when the money was sent for that they had no currency, and could not give exchange, and he had to go without the money and give them time.

He regretted the necessity for public action, but thought they ought to meet the matter fairly. The money was scattered over the West, and he didn't see how it could be got back in less than 30 or 60 days. The business men of Pittsburgh must give their patrons time, and hence must adopt some new expedient.

Mr. James Park, Jr., wanted to ask the committee if they had not deemed it expedient to embody in their resolutions something in relation to in the country. He had been trying for years to discover whether there actually was enough money in the land to conduct the business. He had his own opinion of the matter, although he saw others in the room who differed with him. He was satisfied there was not money enough in the country to conduct its business. The country needed more money. (Applause.) The people wanted more currency, because they considered it all right, and they couldn't have too much of a good thing. (Laughter and applause.) The country needed far more currency than was issued; the people got hold of the currency and it was so good that they held on to it. In 1857 the currency could not be forced into the banks. It had to be exchanged for bankable funds at an immense discount. The people didn't want it. The case was different now and they couldn't get enough of them.

EVERYBODY WANTED GREENBACKS

He believed the workmen of Pittsburgh had too much sense to inaugurate a run on the banks. He did not think they need fear that. The general confidence in the banks was strong and people felt they were safe.

He thought the resolutions defective in that they made no mention of the lack of currency, for the business wants of the country. He thought the report should be recommitted to have something of that kind inserted,—an expression of opinion. He believed there were from one to two hundred millions of greenbacks hoarded up in the country, and that the business of the country needed fully two hundred millions more.

IF HE WAS EMPEROR,

he would order an issue of that amount.

A voice—"Oh, say three hundred millions." (Laughter.)

The Chair thought that under the call for the meeting such a matter could not be introduced in the resolutions. They had met to consider what they would do in the present money stringency—not to discuss the currency question. The resolutions must first be disposed of, and then if they desired, they could act upon any resolution offered in relation to the general question of currency supply.

To-morrow was Saturday and pay day at many of the mills. They question was, should they pay off in full, and thus make a new drain on the banks, or should they decide upon some plan to relieve the pressure. They must dispose of that first.

Mr. Park said he did not wish to interfere with the smooth running of the meeting, and would not press the matter, although he wanted the greenbacks. (Applause.)

Mr. T. N. Miller said the reason he had asked about the banks was that he saw a bank statement the other day, and found they had invested in bonds nearly as much as their deposits amounted to. He supposed the directors of that bank thought they were

"IN A SAFE PLACE,"

but was that accommodating their friends?

The Chair—"Oh we can't control that. A manufacturer might put all his funds in stock in the same way."

A large number of persons having arrived during this discussion, a request was made that the resolutions be read again.

The Secretary read the resolutions and also the call.

Mr. Slagle then said that he had circulated the call, and was glad to say that he was everywhere cordially received. He could have had many more signatures, but he had not the time.

Mr. Hugh M. Bole wanted to know how they were to do business on long or short hours without money. If they could not get the money from the banks how were they to go on. He would be in favor of the plan adopted by the Railroad Company, to pay by the hour and work so many hours. He thought that would remedy the matter. They could then pay the men all they earned.

THE RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED.

No other remarks being offered.

The Chair said this was an important matter and he wanted a full vote. He therefore asked for a rising vote on the adoption of the resolutions.

The vote being taken in this way the Secretary reported two dissenting.

Mr. Bole,—"I object; I have no place to sit down." (Great laughter.)

The Chair—"Shall the vote be made unanimous. All in favor say aye."

There was a hearty aye, followed by one "nay," the negative voter being Mr. Robinson, of the Excelsior Glass Works.

The resolutions were declared adopted.

FUTURE MEETINGS.

Mr. B. F. Jones moved that the Chair be instructed to appoint a Committee consisting of one representative from each branch of Pittsburgh's industries and business, the Committee to meet next week and to call a general meeting whenever deemed desirable. Adopted.

The Chair stated the Committee would be appointed and the names published.

The meeting then adjourned.

The Genuine Article.

It is greatly to be deplored that counterfeits and imitations are so industriously pressed upon the community. Did our people use the genuine spirit of grain, as our fathers did, a great proportion of the troubles attributed to its use would be unheard of. But the genuine may still be had, and he who uses a base imitation is inexcusable, when at No. 87 Second avenue; the reputable liquor house of Messrs. Dillinger & Stevenson, wines, whiskies and brandies can be obtained in all their purities. Old time whiskies and brandies without the alloy of headache or dyspepsia, ranging in age from five to fifteen years. Buy your liquors at this house, and you will find them medicine for your infirmities. Their stock is large, and of the very best qualities.

Funeral of Rear Admiral Winslow.

BOSTON, October 3.—The funeral services over the remains of the late Rear Admiral John A. Winslow took place to-day in St. John's Episcopal church, in Boston Highlands. At the close the remains were taken to Forest Hill and interred. In accordance with the wish of the family of the deceased, there was no military procession, but a long line of carriages, containing professional and personal friends, accompanied the body to the grave. The flags on all public and many private buildings were at half-mast.

PETROLEUM at Antwerp 41½.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 110.

THE Evangelical Conference organized yesterday, by electing Dr. Theodore D. Woolsey President, and S. J. Prime General Secretary. Rev. M. Prochet, of Italy, delivered an address.

THE Dispatch criticises an error in our telegraphic report, published on Thursday, in which Lake Chatauqua is said to be in Ohio. Our cotemporary is correct in its reminder. Lake Chatauqua is not in Ohio.

THE yellow fever has extended to Memphis, and the people are leaving the city as rapidly as possible. The Howard Association, which has attempted to care for the sufferers in the plague-stricken city, is out of funds. The appeal that comes is more urgent than that from a burning city. It is from the sick and dying, who cannot help themselves, and must have aid. Unless it is extended, the epidemic will spread. Cities like Pittsburgh, and those east of us that need not fear the coming of this dread disease, should cheerfully extend the necessary aid.

THE non-attendance of members of the Constitutional Convention has become a positive evil. When it adjourned for the Summer, one plea for that course was that owing to the excessive heat of the weather, they could not keep a quorum of members present for duty. The adjournment is over and the heat has abated; yet we still have a bare quorum, and occasionally not so many present. A few days since an adjournment was had because, on a vote being taken, a quorum was found not to be present. Some forty members seem to have the principal work of the Convention to do. This is a grievous wrong.

THE Italians of Philadelphia have joined in a very commendable movement toward celebrating the Centennial. They propose to erect, in Fairmount Park, a colossal statue of Christopher Columbus. It will be of Carrara marble, and of Italian workmanship, and will be the first monument, worthy the name, erected to Columbus in this country. A sculptured stone over his remains, in the Cathedral at Havana, serves a memorial purpose, but it is not a monument. The Italians of the entire country will be called upon to aid in this memorial enterprise, and we are glad to believe that it will be entirely successful.

THE reception accorded to the delegates to the Evangelical Alliance, at the Young Men's Christian Association Rooms, New York, began auspiciously the proceedings of the Alliance. It served to assure the gentlemen who had come from the various parts of the world of the cordiality with which their mission is regarded by the people of this country. They may thus enter upon their formal labors assured that their actions will be closely scanned and their good deeds fully appreciated by our people, and in this will find encouragement and inspiration in their labors. The address of Rev. Dr. Adams was particularly timely and able.

WE ARE pleased to notice that the press of the country, in commenting on our post-office affairs, clearly realizes the exact shape of the transactions which have taken place. In place of a general assault on the Administration, they admit that much that is censured grew rather out of loose business management than of purposeful violation of law. They also commend the ability and promptness displayed by District Attorney Swoope, in reporting and changing the condition of things. Where the first intelligence of a wrong in a public officer comes from the Government authorities, and a prompt remedy is applied, no fault can be found. Even the New York Tribune admits the correct application of the Civil Service Rules, in selecting a successor for Mr. Stewart.

THE hurried return of Thiers from the mountains of Switzerland to Paris, and the careful and even anxious count of votes, shows that the struggle in behalf of the monarchy by MacMahon and the Chambords, and against by the Republicans, will be earnest and embittered. It is now stated that the monarchists have a majority of twenty votes, and that they hope to increase the number before the meeting of the Assembly. All the appliances usual on such occasions will be made use of. Money will be spent in large quantities, much having been used to subisdize the press. The army has been arranged already for the coming change, as well as stationed at points that will admit of the prompt suppression of attempted revolt. Withal, it will be gratifying to see Chambord defeated. But the prospect that the "religious revival" may be succeeded by the erection of the throne is too apparent to be coolly set aside.

THE Pennsylvania Railroad stock declined during the panic, to about 46, and stands now at 48, or thereabouts. There is no good reason why it should not be at par and even higher. To those who have funds for investment, this is a very flattering time for purchasing such stock, as it pays five per cent. dividend every six months. Of its earnings the Philadelphia Ledger says: "The Pennsylvania Railroad Company furnishes the following figures of the earnings for the month of August and for the eight months of the year, compared with the earnings in the same time last year: Earnings in August, 1873, $1,996,133.15; same month last year, $1,862,100.45; increase, $134,032.70. Earnings from January 1, 1873, to September 1, 1873, $16,252,705.02; same period last year, $14,148,624.32; increase, $2,104,080.70. The same ratio of increase for the remainder of the year will show an increase for 1873 over that of 1872 of more than three millions of dollars. The loan recently so satisfactorily negotiated by the company in England is sufficient to liquidate all the company's current liabilities, leaving entire the large and steadily increasing net revenues to the payment of interest and the usual semi-annual 5 per cent. dividends, which, at present, there is no reason to doubt will be continued."

OUR Signal Service system has won its way to a world wide acceptance, and soon will be established in all parts of the world, the Vienna Congress having recognized it, and agreed that one observation shall be taken daily, uniform in time, for the purpose of securing a synopsis of weather probabilities. Of course time will be required to perfect the system, and get it in full working, but this done, and what are now called "probabilities" as regards weather, will be reduced to certain prophecies. We have already explained the theory, which may now be called certainty or fact, as to the movements of storms, and the method of ascertaining the future course of storms, or the probability of clear weather. It is, simply, that storms have two motions, one that is circular, around its own centre or axis, and a forward motion. The circular movement has in it the chief force of the storm, and is rapid and violent; the forward motion is slow. Hence, however violent a storm may be, it moves but slowly forward, and may thus be foretold in a given direction a given number of hours before its appearance. Storms generated in the open Atlantic may break upon our sea-coast unheralded; but those from the North and from the West Indies will be foretold. It is not only of great benefit to the mercantile world that the system is perfected, but a triumph as well for the system which has been carried to such perfection in this country.

QUACK REMEDY.

An amusing and jolly crowd were those Democrats who assembled at Utica, New York, to furnish a panacea for all the ills the country may be presumed to be suffering from. After the frisky movements necessary to get the Apollo Hall delegation out of the way, this brave Convention concluded to grapple with the financial problem, which it did in the following remarkable manner:

Resolved, That in the midst of these widespread calamities and this general distress we scout the President's pill for panic—more inflation, more subsidies, more ballooning—and we point the country to the true remedy and cure in the tried and historic principles of the old Democracy, applicable throughout our national, State and municipal life, which limit and localize most jealously the powers entrusted to public servants, which enforce honesty and frugality in public and private affairs, which prescribe equal taxation for all and currency as good as gold.

The financial panic of 1857 illustrated how the Democratic party made currency as good as gold. Not only did the banks break, but the currency was worthless. Now, no matter what banks break, the currency is safe, and to-day commands 3 per cent. premium. We also admire the refreshing coolness with which reference is made to "localizing most jealously the powers entrusted to public servants." It was Tammany that said this—victorious, unblushing, crime-laden, thieving Tammany. Apollo Hall, which represented something of decency, had been driven out, and corrupt Tammany it is that is so jealous of the powers entrusted to public servants. Could comment make the utterances more ridiculous? Just what principles of Democracy would serve to relieve, or ward off financial panic, or would remedy the evil, after it had come, we do not know.

The more able and shrewd journals, which supported Greeley, and thus gave aid and comfort, and a transient respectability to the Democracy last year, have been candid enough to say that the crisis or panic would have come anyhow. It started with a private banking house, and has been confined almost entirely to private banks. It has not depreciated, but appreciated currency, to an extent that has made it an object with some to hoard it. This it is, that accounts for the prevailing financial stringency, for now the difficulty is in the scarcity of greenbacks. The only trouble with banks arises from this, that they cannot get the currency to do business with. They are safe; they have assets, but not the circulating medium. The democracy cannot help affairs.

OUR DUTY.

We hear, from various parts of the State and county, that while the party is not aroused, as in times of controversy and of heated canvass, that there is a quiet confidence on the part of Republicans generally that they will be entirely successful with their ticket. It is not thought that our majority will be as large as usual, because the vote will not be out. But that it will be relatively large, is generally expected. There is really no disaffection of moment, but an indifference to politics at all. The canvass of last year drew so largely on the energies of the people that they do not feel like renewing the excitements and struggles that then took place. Nor do we deem it necessary. The frequent recurrence of excited political campaigns is in every way undesirable. They leave bad results as regards morals, that are not to be desired. If the same end can be accomplished in a different manner, it is better. The people should care for business and labor, and not waste their energies in public displays.

The points aimed at, through all the discussions, and displays in times of excitement, are a full vote, and a right one. This can be reached, so far as practical results are aimed at, by the resolution, on the part of Republicans, to be out on election day, and to see that their neighbors and friends do the same. If anything more than this is needed at the present, it can be reached by the use of a few evenings. In these, poll books may be prepared or revised, and block and ward committees appointed. The duties of such committees can even be performed in a few evenings. So far as election day preparations are concerned, they can be arranged without the loss of day time. We judge few meetings will be necessary, as there is little to discuss,—the Democracy not having made an assault on our candidates or party that is worth an effort to repel. For special reasons, a few meetings may be thought necessary in certain localities, but as a rule, but little work of this kind will be done. There is no need of a dominant party originating a fight.

The great duty, therefore, that is before all Republicans is—1. To insist that the regular ticket, county and State, without emendation or alteration, shall be voted. No trades can be made that will better it. We challenge comparison between our ticket, taken as a whole, and any other in the field. It is, and has been, spoken of, since it was framed, as exceptionally good. 2. To prepare to get out a full vote. In this, a canvass will be needed, just a day or two before election, to know who will, and who will not be ready to go to the polls. And as a precedent to this, a general canvass is necessary, to know what changes may have taken place in our voting strength. 3. Poll and check books should be prepared, for challenging and prudential purposes. It may seem like a useless precaution, but it often has a very great value. If this is done, and our vote secured, and cast for the whole ticket, the results, we are certain, will be satisfactory to every earnest Republican.

PERSONAL.

NAST is back to his old post on Harper's Weekly.

MRS. CHARLES SUMNER now takes her maiden name, Alice Mason. She is also residing in Boston.

GEN. VON MOLTKE is inspecting the coast of Germany with the design of devising a system for its defence.

THE Duke of Edinburgh is continuing his courting of the Princess Alexandrowna at the Czar's country seat at Livadia.

COL. RICHARD NUGENT, of the Austrian army, is the husband of M'lle Ilma di Murska, the Hungarian prima donna.

WILLIAM CULLEN BRYANT is seventy-nine. His person is erect, his manner dignified, and his intellect in pristine vigor.

FOUR members of the House of Congress have died since March—Messrs. James Brooks of New York, William Whiting of Massachusetts, Wilder D. Foster of Michigan and Joseph G. Wilson of Oregon. Another member, Mr. Ambrose R. Wright of Georgia, has died since his election.

BENJAMIN GRISWOLD, who recently died in Cambridge, Vermont, at the age of eighty-one years, had read his Bible through 163 times.

PRINCE CHARLES ANTON, of Hohenzollern-Sigmaringen, has become the possessor of the famous Castle of Hohenaschau in the Bavarian highlands, which Prince Bismark was recently reported to have purchased.

MR. DISRAELI recently said, in a letter of excuse for his absence from the festival of the Woburn Improvement Association:—"Although from a sense of duty I have attended Parliament, I have been and am now otherwise living in seclusion."

PENNSYLVANIA has not yet placed the statues of her two most eminent men in the old rotunda of the Capitol, under the act of Congress, owing to a dispute in our Legislature whether these should be Wayne and Fulton or Wayne and Robert Morris. New York has just sent her splendid bronze of George Clinton, Rhode Island a superb marble bust of Greene, and Massachusetts Hancock and Franklin.

CHARLES W. LOVETT, who has filled the office of Deputy Secretary of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts for the last fifty years, has just retired into private life. His term of service has extended through the administrations of Governors Eustis, Lincoln, Davis, Everett, Morton, Briggs, Boutwell, Clifford, Washburn, Gardner, Banks, Andrew, Bullock, Claflin and Washburn. Truly, a notable record for a faithful public officer.

STOKES'S third trial is to begin next Monday. The fluctuations of hope and fear that that young man has experienced have not wasted his frame to any serious extent, nor plunged his spirits into the depths of melancholy. He has been nearly two years in prison, and yet throughout all that period of dreary confinement his soul has been soothed and sustained by the conviction that the truth would come out at last, and that Fisk's fatuity in falling down stairs and running a banister into his digestive organs would be clearly established.—Brooklyn Argus.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

UDDERZOOK'S trial on the charge of murdering Goss will take place on the 27th inst.

SENOR SOLOR, Minister of Colonies, will leave Spain on the 20th inst., to visit Porto Rico and Cuba.

SIR SAMUEL BAKER, the African traveler, and his wife, will visit this country during next Summer.

FORTY years ago there were 23 miles of railroad in the United States, and now there are about 53,000 miles.

IT IS said that the whisky and hogs at the Cincinnati Exposition were the admiration of the whole city.

DANIEL JONES, who murdered Mr. Nelson in Highland township, Pa., on Monday, has been captured.

THE President hit the nail straight on the head when he said: "Confidence on the part of the people is the first thing needed to relieve the present condition."

PITTSBURGH positively refuses to suspend payment. Some few felt a hankering that way, but the atmosphere was so thick that they couldn't see to do it.—Brooklyn Argus.

THE Journal de Bruxelles asserts that in 1848, when there were 40,000 lay teachers in France, M. Thiers said of them, in the National Assembly:—"There are 40,000 priests of atheism and socialism."

IT is related that the editor of a religious paper in New York left to his heirs over 2,100 shares of different kinds of stocks, all of which are now not worth 2,100 cents. He also left $27,000 in the Union Trust Company.

TO ENABLE gentlemen to get through their visiting list, the following rule has been adopted in New York: An ordinary evening call is fifteen minutes; half an hour is a visit; longer than that is spending the evening.

OLIVE LOGAN says that half the labor she has put into the book that is most severely criticised would bring her a fortune in the millinery business. Well, we see no reason why Olive should not go into the millinery business.

IT IS to be feared that some women abuse their rights. In Kansas a widow married a young man early in the Spring, just at planting time. Her crops have now been gathered in, and she has turned the young man out of the house and home, utterly refusing to Winter him.

IF ever a man suffered three deaths in one, Mr. Arnold, of Johnson county, has so suffered. In attempting to extinguish the flames of a burning threshing machine, the insatiate thresher caught him, of course. To save him from burning, a friend considerately seized an ax and chopped off his leg with three stout blows. The victim died, of course.

A DISPATCH from Cartagena says that the insurgent frigates were not injured during the bombardment of Alicante, and no one on board was killed. They are taking in coal and making preparations to attack Valencia. The Spanish Government has issued an order requiring all vessels arriving at the ports in Spain from Liverpool to undergo quarantine.

IN the current Galaxy there is a story of an "English gentleman," on a visit to America, who, upon being asked after dinner if he would have cream and sugar in his coffee, replied that he liked neither when the coffee was good, and then, immediately after tasting the coffee, sent his cup for both cream and sugar. There is another of an English "lady and gentleman," dining also in America. The lady was asked to try some national dish. She did so, and advised her husband to have some, saying, "It's not so nasty."

THE full returns of the British Board of Trade show how nearly a complete stop has been put to the exportation of iron to this country. Comparing the month of August, 1872, with the same month in 1873, the export of pig iron declined from 10,565 tons to 7,235; of bar, angle, and rod iron from 5,032 to 479 tons; of railroad iron from 40,005 to 6,937 tons; of hoop and sheet iron from 3,305 to 462 tons, of unwrought steel from 2,066 to 1,342 tons; and cast iron shows an increase from 1,055 to 2,282 tons. Uniting all the classes of iron and steel the exports were 61,971 tons in August, 1872, and only 18,737 tons, or less than one-third as much in August, 1873.

SKEPTICISM is the fashion of the age, and yields to nothing but statistics. The latest reports of the Registrar General of England curiously contradict the doubts of Mr. W. J. Thoms, who has no faith in the existence of centenarians. According to these reports, during the year 1871, seventeen persons were registered as dying at the age of 100 years; 17 at 101; 10 at 102; 5 at 103; 3 at 104; 2 at 105; 2 at 106; 1 at 107; 1 at 108, and 1 at 109 years. The last three are remarkable cases; a man in the district of Sevenoaks was registered as dying at 107 years of age, a man in the district of Ledbury at 108, a woman in the district of Chester at 109 years. Seven centenarians died in the metropolis, and seven in Lancashire. Of the whole sixty-nine, twenty-five were men and forty-four women.

WAS there ever a more infamous transaction than the bargain alleged by the San Francisco Bulletin's correspondent to have been made by an embalmer named Sherwood, with Captain Jack, whereby the latter, for a certain sum of money, conveys all right, title, and interest in his body, after execution, to the former, who, in turn, proposes to exhibit it as a mummy throughout the land? But notwithstanding the money has been paid, and Sherwood holds Captain Jack's receipt for it, yet the Commander at Klamath very properly questions the prisoner's right to dispose of his own remains, no matter how self-possessed he may be while living, and now the enterprising Sherwood proposes to have the matter decided by the War Department. It is not to be for a moment supposed that Secretary Belknap will countenance any such ghoul-like disposition of the body.—N. Y. Commercial Advertiser.

PLENTY OF DRYING MATERIAL.

How She Painted Her Floor and After.

An old lady who lives a little distance from the small village of Quechy, Vt., writes a friend, went to the store in that place a few days ago for a pot of paint, with which she designed ornamenting her kitchen floor. She told the clerk, who went down stairs to prepare the decoction, to put in plenty of drying material, and he honestly intended to do so, but missing some pomatum from one side of his moustache, the loss so annoyed him that he omitted paying that attention to the order which it required, and instead of turpentine, poured in a generous quantity of syrup. That evening the old lady painted her floor, and the next morning made an examination of it, to test its condition. When she opened the door, her cat, which was following, playfully jumped into the room, and then stopped. The old lady immediately shewed the animal, but it didn't shew. It pulled away and tore one foot from the floor, and set it down again to pull up another, which necessitated pulling up the first one again. Then it tried the experiment over again, but with the same result. Finally it lifted one foot, and kept it up until the other was hoisted. This gave the animal the appearance of trying to stand on its head, but its plaintive cries indicated that such was not its purpose. While thus raised, it attempted to lift the third foot, but in so doing fell over, and came down on its side in the paint, and there it stuck, clawing the air with its paws, and spitting forth the most venomous sounds. The old lady got a board, and laying it to the cat, succeeded with some difficulty in rescuing it. But she could not understand why that paint should be so moist. In the afternoon she tested the floor again with her finger, but the paint was still sticky. The next morning it was the same, and also in the afternoon. The third morning there was no improvement, nor any in the afternoon. She was astonished. When she touched her finger to the paint this time, she transferred her finger to her tongue, then opened her eyes a little wider, and tasted again. After that she put on her things, harnessed her horse, and started for that store. And that evening the clerk shaved off his moustache, and buried his pomatum in the solitude of the forest.

IN CHURCH.

The Prize-Package Boy's Dream.

One of the most alarming cases of somnambulism with which we are familiar is that of the prize-package boy who operates on the Norristown Railroad, in Philadelphia. By some extraordinary combination of circumstances this child of sin was induced to go to church a few Sundays ago, and whilst listening to the sermon he fell asleep in the back pew where he sat. There had been a Sunday School meeting there before church, and all the Bibles and missionary newspapers were piled up in that particular pew. Suddenly this remorseless young orphan picked up a bundle of the papers in his sleep and began to walk up the aisle, throwing one into each pew as he went along. When he got under the lee of the pulpit he stopped and waited two or three minutes. The minister looked cross-eyed at him and glared at him through his spectacles, but the young brigand was unconscious. Then he glided down the aisle and amazed the congregation by removing the papers from each pew. When he reached the rear he seized an armful of Bibles and rambled up the aisle again, tossing them at the occupants of the pews. Resting again under the pulpit, and wholly indifferent to the circumstance that the clergyman's eyes again were out of their natural straight position, and were making his spectacles look like a double-barreled locomotive head light, the infant brigand pranced down the aisle the second time, yelling, "Here's yer prize packages, only ten cents; each one contains a prize from ten cents to ten dollars!" and grabbing for the Bible as he proceeded. The minister waved his hand at one of the deacons; the deacon and the sexton charged on that boy, and the organist tells us the three scudded down the thoroughfare at the rate of fifteen knots an hour, while the sexton shook the boy up, and the deacon boxed his ears, and wished it was not wicked to swear. Then they took him up into the steeple and killed him. We are not certain that they killed him, but we think they did, of course, for that is the only way in which he could be kept quiet. We could have butchered him long ago if we could have got him alone in a steeple somewhere.—Max Adler.

SHORT OF FUNDS.

A Countryman's Embarrassing Situation.

A rather embarassing "situation" is thus chronicled by the Danbury News:

Among those who attended the show Thursday night was a young couple from Slawson. He being an economical man, ingeniously protected himself from temptation by bringing just the amount required for admittance with him. In the hall they secured a good seat, and clasping hands, enjoyed the performance in the full confidence that everything would come out all right in the last act. At the end of the first act he went out, taking a check with him, but on passing to the walk, at the front entrance, one of a crowd of boys there snatched the check from his hand. In vain he searched for that boy. Then he retraced his steps back to his door, and attempted to re-enter, but the gentleman who was stationed there on business barred the way, and demanded his check. He explained his loss. The genleman put his tongue in his left cheek, winked one eye, very pleasantly, and advised him to "carry the news to Mary." The young man was mad. All that he held dear on earth was in that hall, excepting his horse, which was under the Methodist Church sheds. He made another effort to get in, but was prevented, and then resorting to abuse, was dexteriously helped down stairs and into the street, impartially dividing his profanity between the show people, the boy who stole his check, and his economy. What the deserted maid thought we do not know, but the ride home presented an opportunity, if not an inclination, to explain why he took but one dollar to the show.

Vaccination and Small-Pox.

The advantage of vaccination as a preventive of small-pox appears now to have been definitely determined. The third International Medical Congress, in session during the first part of this month at Vienna, discussed the subject very thoroughly, and the testimony of the great majority was unqualifiedly in favor of using vaccine matter. Dr. Friedinger, the Director of the Foundling Hospital in Vienna, held that all children should be vaccinated in the first four months after birth, and that revaccination should take place in the 12th year of age. The statistics produced at the meeting showed that the mortality in small-pox epidemics is five times greater among those who have been vaccinated. During the last epidemic in Berlin, 40 per cent. of the non-vaccinated and one-half of 1 per cent. of the revaccinated died. Finally the Congress, by a vote of 155 to 5, declared vaccination necessary, and recommended to all governments to make it obligatory.

—The town of Lampasas, Texas, was inundated on Saturday last by a sudden rise in a creek that flows through the place. The water was so swift that some twenty houses were carried away, including the post office and contents, and the stores of Messrs. Woods and Chalson and their contents. Six persons are known to have been drowned.

—There is nothing particularly new in Cincinnati financial matters. Things are working quietly. The general markets are recovering from the depression. The demand for some definite action relative to an early currency resumption is increasing.

MADAME DAVENPORT'S

HAIR RESTORATIVE, for cleansing, beautifying and promoting the growth of the hair. A sure and permanent cure for baldness, prepared from the original receipt as obtained from Madame Davenport from an eminent physician of the U. S. Navy, who had used it in his practice for over forty years, and never found it to fail.

Mrs. S. A. Wanner & Co.'s Sepia, a Water Color for the Hair. Ladies and gentlemen are alike interested in this article, for they are all interested in their personal appearance and adornment. Beauty will fade—the hair will turn gray—and we sometimes find ourselves approaching the "sere and yellow leaf" early in life. There is a dread of becoming old that cannot be overcome. Sold only in Pittsburgh, at

Browne's Drug Store

Cor. Penn and Sixth (old St. Clair) streets.

KITTLE AND DROLL.

I ken an auld man, ca'd Kittle an' Droll—
The hoose he lives in inspection wad thole—
He used to weave stockin's an' sic-n-like gear,
And the word he says ay—the s me may seem queer—
'Tis that funny word kittle,
That curious word kittle.
An' tae gie it mair force, says "Kittle an' Droll."

"George is George, an' Fisher's a man,"
Is a rhyme o' his ain, deny it wha can;
Tae politics he body devotes his hale soul,
An' winds up his arguments wi' kittle and droll—
That useless word kittle,
That kittle word kittle,
An tae makit mair kittle, cries "Kittle an' Droll."

A'e day gey langsyne, at a sma' country fair,
By design or by accident, Kittle was there;
Comin' hame on the road he got his nose broke,
An' the ruffian that did it, thocht it a gran' joke
To play upon Kittle,
Wha thought it was kittle
An' shouted "Deplorable! Kittle an' Droll."

Wi' a frien, I am tauld, he yince had a quarrel,
'Boot some stuff he bought—pears, that lay in a barrel,
He advised puir Kittle tae shove his haud doon,
For the yins at the bottom were a' hale an' soun;
But he fand they were kittle,
A deal war than kittle—
Fine sport tae the gardener was Kittle an' Droll.

Then, like tae a trooper, at the gardener he swore,
Declared he'd ne'er enter his garden door more,
For his airm it was clad wi' dirt tae the tap—
The dirt had been keept for the next onion crap;
The scent o't was kittle—
Ah, shockingly kittle!
"Dep'orable, Wa'ker! yer Kittle an' Droll!"

He's no a teetotaler, but likes a bit dram,
Was a regular attender in the shop o' P. C—m,
Whaur the bells o' St. Michael he sang wi' great glee,
An' let fa' a when words I'll no tell tae ye;
They are a sea kittle,
An' rendered mair kittle.
The kittle way they're said by Kittle an' Droll!

He, whiles in the Auld Kirk, as precentor will sing,
Whisky bees in the morning remorseless wad sting;
Sae aff tae the teuch an' doon on his knees,
Tae lave up the water tae droon oot the bees—
For they made his hand kittle—
Tremendously kittle—
Their buzzin' an' bummin' wast kittle an' droll!

Ae' mornin' when busy at this sort o' wark,
A blacksmith cam' slippin'—aye fond o' a lark—
He gie'd him a tip wi' the point o' his boot;
He plunged o'er the heid, then the smith drew him oot
The dip was sae kittle—
It ulga finished kittle—
Wha vowed he'd mak Vu can fo' kittle an' droll!

Wi' a spirit sae light, he'd jump o'er the moon,
If it were nae the pins that keep his legs doon;
An' when a bit drappie maks his arguments able,
He puts his opponents a' under the table—
Maks them fee kittle—
Far mair than kittle—
Yet a guid heart has Kittle tho' kittle an' droll!

He very aften, tae, i' the heat of debate,
Will lift up his stick tae come o'er yer pate;
If wi' the wecht o' his words he canna ye lick,
He'll gi'e ye proof positive wi' the heid o' his stick—
He's sae terribly kittle—
Sae forcibly kittle—
His words an' his acts are a' kittle an' droll!

A lady-killer, tae, tho' a gey cautious loon,
Had mony a guid chance 'mang lassies a' roon';
But somehow or ither he never got wed,
He could see clearly noo they could be fed—
Besides they're a' kittle—
Since Eve they've been kittle—
A wife micht gar Kittle feel kittle and droll!

Yet the body's no ane o' the yammerin' kind,
He's blessed wi' guid sense an' a weel content mind;
Tho' his fare is but plain, and sometimes is scant,
Ye never hear Kittle cry out—"O I want!"
But just treat "Its kittle"—
"The world it is kittle"—
Or "The queer folks in it are kittle and droll!"

A pensioner is he on the bounty o' meek,
The support o' a pauper he never wad seek;
Tho' the flesh it is weak, the spirit is willin',
But the spirit alane winna bring in a shillin'
Tae keep life into Kittle,
Or the spunk into Kittle.
Yet as happy's a cricket is Kittle and Droll!

O! what is the power that reigns has got
On the magnates o' earth? when alane in yon cot,
Uncared and neglected, is jewel hid in mine,
This soul whose effulgence in Heaven may shine,
For on earth he's ca'd Kittle,
By Christians ca'd kittle.
'Mang the ransomed he'll never be Kittle or Droll!

EDINBURGH, September 3, 1873. T.

RUPTURE.

There are hundreds of people ruptured who don't know what ails them; there are others who don't know what to do for it, nor where to seek for relief or a cure; others again who have had rupture for years, under the false notion that there can be no danger in the future, as there has been none in the past. This is a fatal delusion, and there is no knowing what day the rupture may become strangulated, and call for a painful and dangerous surgical operation. To avoid so fearful a result, make application to some competent person to have a truss applied. Will a truss cure me, you may ask. Very often it will, but it will always retain the parts so as to make you secure and safe from danger, and at a cost so trifling as to be hardly worth mentioning when compared with the enormous risk you run in letting it alone. Dr. Keyser, at his office, 167 Liberty street, is provided with every appliance suitable to the retention and cure of this terrible evil. He has trusses at a price as low as can be obtained anywhere in the country, and in every variety and quality—of such vast variety, that the most difficult and long standing cases, of years duration, are made manageable and brought within the province of cure. Let no one deceive themselves into the belief that rupture is never curable; but worst than all, let none consent to "let alone" cure.

Speedily Cured.—All Forms of Venereal, Private and Nervous disease at the old established Girard Medical Institute, No. 172 Second avenue, between Smithfield and Grant streets, Pittsburgh, Pa.

NO CHARGE UNTIL CURED.

Syphilis, Stricture, Orchitis, Hernia and all Urinary diseases are cured in the shortest possible time that will insure permanent relief, Spermatorrhea, or Seminal weakness and Impotency, as the result of self-abuse or excess in maturer years, and which produce some of the following effects, as emissions, blotches, debility, dizziness, nervousness, dimness of sight, cough, indigestion, constipation, despondency, confusion of ideas, aversion to society, loss of memory, and sexual power, and which unfits the victim for business or marriage, and ultimately causing insanity and consumption, are thoroughly and permanently cured. Medicines supplied at the Institute. A medical pamphlet relating to private diseases sent in sealed envelope for two stamps. All communications confidential.

This Institute was established for the express purpose of supplying the afflicted with scientific and reliable treatment, and is not to be classed with the numerous quacks and impostors that infest all large cities. The proprietors have made the treatment of Private and special diseases the study of their lives, and can refer to thousands all over the country that have been benefitted and cured by their treatment. No matter how difficult or long standing your case may be, if curable, after a personal examination they will frankly tell you; remember, they have cured many cases given up by other physicians.

Patients treated by mail or express, but where possible, it is best to visit the city for personal consultation, or address:

The better feeling noticed in the money market was still more observable yesterday. The pleasant prognostications in which we have indulged for a few days past are being fully and most agreeably consummated. The coming week is destined, we imagine, to witness important changes in the entire financial situation. Those who have been hoarding their greenbacks will, no doubt, become active agents in relieving the monetary stress by putting so many hundred thousands of circulating medium into the market again, in the purchase of the various securities then obtainable. There are recuperative agencies at work so powerful as to certainly restore the general monetary system to its usual functions in a comparatively short period, and the best we can do at present is patiently to endure inconvenience and hopefully co-operate for the furtherance of the common cause. A visit to a number of the banks afforded hopeful indications that the reflux to their vaults is in progress; without an exception they report that they are steadily, although slowly, gaining.

The meeting held at Lafayette Hall of merchants and manufacturers was a very important one, and when its action and utterances become generally known and understood will have a still better influence. The confidence expressed in the banks and of the general prosperity of the country, as expressed by our leading business men, was highly encouraging, and cannot but give renewed encouragement.

NEW YORK, October 3, 1873.

Affairs in financial circles continue to improve. The closing day of the three days grace accorded brokers in making up private settlements brings with it no new disaster beyond the suspension of the small broker house of Albert Cole, which has exercised no influence on the market. Only one thousand shares of various stocks were sold out under the rule for delinquent parties. There were considerable purchases to day of dividend paying securities on European account. Savings banks and investors were free buyers of Government bonds, and mercantile obligations are being met with promptness.

Money loaned at 7 currency and 7 gold on Government bonds, and 1-16 and ⅛ per diem on other good collaterals. Greenbacks sold at 1⅛ per cent. premium early in the day. Later there was a decline to ½ per cent., and at the close the quotations were ¼ and 1 per cent. in anticipation of a demand to-morrow by manufacturers to pay off their hands. The Loan Committee to-day canceled over one million dollars bank certificates. Sterling was heavy and lower, closing with actual business at 106⅛@106¾ for sixty days, and 107⅛@107¾ for sight. The customs receipts to-day were $367,000. Gold was dull and heavy, declining from 110⅜ to 109¾, and closing at 110. Loans were from 3 to 7 per cent. gold for carrying, and flat for borrowing. Clearings $30,000,000. The Assistant Treasurer disbursed $134,000. Governments were active and higher. They are becoming as scarce as before the panic. Orders are executed with some difficulty, and the advance fails to bring out any large offering.

The Governing Committee of the Stock Exchange appointed a sub committee to investigate the affairs of D. Williams and John Bonner with the Bank of North America, and Edward Haight & Co. with the Bank of the Commonwealth.

Stocks were strong during the greater portion of the day. A sharp advance in prices took place, the improvement ranging from 1 to 5 per cent. The largest dealings were in Lake Shore, Western Union and New York Central, but an active business was done in some of the other shares. In the investment list a general recovery took place, and a larger business was done than usual. At the close there was a slight reaction in exceptional cases, the general market leaving off strong at the highest point of the day. Western advanced 3⅛, Lake Shore 4⅛, New York Central 3⅜, Harlem 5, Delaware, Lackawanna & Western 3⅛, and Rock Island 3⅜. Express shares were higher on moderate dealings.

PITTSBURGH GENERAL MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, October 3, 1873.

Trade in general merchandise continues moderately active, all that can be expected under existing circumstances; it is true the demand for nearly all of the leading articles is confined wholly to supplying immediate wants, but there is a very fair business in the aggregate. In regard to values there have been no recent important changes, but the tendency as a rule seems to be downward, always the result of a close money market.

APPLES—In better supply, and prices are weak, and a shade lower; may be fairly quoted at $2.50@3.50 ℔ brl. as to quality.

BUTTER—There is a very fair demand, and we can report regular sales at 20@25 for fair to good solid packed, and 28@30 for prime to choice roll.

CRANBERRIES—Sales of good to prime Jersey Berries at $11@12 ℔ brl.

CHEESE—The market is steady, and prices sustained, notwithstanding the arrivals recently have been comparatively large; prime Ohio Factory, August make, 13⅜@14 to the trade, and 14⅜@15 in a jobbing way.

EGGS—The market is steady, and notwithstanding the arrivals are increasing, prices are still sustained, ranging from 24@25.

FLOUR—The most important and encouraging feature we have to report is an improvement in New York, which indicates an increased export trade. Dealers here report a very fair demand, but prices remain unchanged: $7.25@7.50 for spring wheat flours, and $7.75@8 for red winter wheat.

GRAIN—Trade continues very fair, considering the monetary troubles; dealers generally report that there is no difficulty in selling, but that a good deal of trouble is experienced in making collections. Wheat is quiet and unchanged at $1.45@1.50 for red; $1.53@1.55 for amber, and $1.58@1.60 for white. The Oat market is steady, with a demand fully up to the supply, and prices are well sustained, ranging from 45@48, according to quality; the arrivals seem to be on the increase, but as yet there has been no accumulation. Ear Corn is scarce, and there is considerable inquiry for it, though mostly for small lots; may be fairly quoted in bulk, on track, at 65. Sales of shelled reported at 64@65. Rye is quiet and unchanged, ranging from 85@90. There are no established rates in this market, hence, it is impossible to give quotations; consumers generally are buying at Chicago, and the result is that there is little or none here, or coming here, except what is owned by them. No 2 was higher in Chicago on Thursday from which it is evident that there is an increased demand.

GROCERIES—Trade continues dull, and no improvement is anticipated until money commences to work a little easier; our merchants, as a rule, do not seem inclined to sell, particularly to buyers who are doubtful, as collections at best are very hard to make. Our advices from the east report business dull, and all the leading staples shrinking in value. Coffee continues weak, and the same is true of Refined Sugars, although there has been no quotable change in prices in our market as yet.

COFFEE—Choice Rio, 27⅜@28; good to prime 25⅜@27c; fair, 24@25c. Roasted one lb. packages, 31c; loose, 30⅜.

SUGARS—Patent Cut Loaf, 13⅜c; Crushed Powdered and Granulated, 12⅜; Standard A, 11⅜; B, 11⅜; Ex. C, 11⅜; Franklin Ex. C, 10⅜. Other Yellow Sugars, 8@10.

SYRUPS—Extra White Drips, 80c; Sugar Drips, 70c; Amber, 65@70; lower grades, 40@50, as to quality.

RICE—Carolina Choice, 9⅜; Patna, 8⅜; Rangoon, 7⅜@8.

MOLASSES—Choice New Orleans, 78@80c; Prime 73 to 75.

HONEY—Is selling at 33@35c per ℔.

HAY—Loose was in very fair supply in Allegheny, but prices were well sustained, ranging from $22@28 ℔ ton, according to quality. Baled continues dull, although prices remain unchanged, $20@25 ℔ ton.

POTATOES—Irish in light supply, and quoted at from 85@90c ℔ bushel by the car load. Sweets in good supply, but not quotably lower, $3.50@4.75 per barrel, the outside figure for prime Jerseys.

PEAS—$1.75@2 ℔ bushel.

POULTRY—Live chickens, by the coop, 50@75c per pair, according to size.

PROVISIONS—Extra Sugar Cured Hams, ℔ lb. 15, Ex. Sugar Cured Shoulders, 11⅜; Sugar cured Breakfast Bacon, 13⅜c. Extra Sugar Cured Dried Beef, 17⅜, Beef tongues, $7.50 ℔ dozen. Bacon Shoulders, per lb, 10c. Bacon Rib Sides, 10⅜c. Bacon Short Rib Sides 11c. Bacon Clear Rib Sides, 11⅜c. Mess Pork, $18.00 per barrel. Refined Lard for summer use, in trcs, 9⅜. Do. half bbls, 10⅜c. Do. bkts 11c. Do. in 3 lb. caddies, 12⅜c. Do in 5 lb. 12c do. in 3 lb. pails 13⅜c; ℔ pound. Do. in 6 lb. pails, 12⅜.

ONIONS—$4@5 ℔ brl.

RAGS—Quoted at 3⅜@3⅜c.

SALT—Is quoted at $1.60 ℔ brl. by the car load, and $1.85 in a jobbing way.

SEEDS—Timothy Seed, in a jobbing way, $3.60@3.65. Flax Seed unchanged at $1.90.

TALLOW—Quoted at 7⅜@8c ℔ ℔.

WHISKY—Highwines, 95@97.

PITTSBURGH IRON AND NAIL MARKET

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, Oct. 3, 1873.

While it is true that the demand for finished irons has fallen off somewhat, it is also true that the mills are nearly all busy as yet, some of them running to their full capacity, and prices are still sustained. It should be borne in mind that finished irons, prior to the panic, had shrunk largely in value, and hence, this accounts for the fact that they have not sympathized with other staples in this respect. From all that we can learn, there is no disposition to make concessions in order to effect sales, and, furthermore, there is no occasion for it, as the mills generally are pretty well sold ahead. We continue to quote selling prices on a basis of 3 and 4 to 3 and 5 tenths for bars; the card remains nominally unchanged at 3 and 8 tenths. Orders for Nails have also slacked off somewhat, but stocks are light, and prices are firm and fully sustained at $4⅜ ℔ keg, with 12⅜c off for 100 keg lots and upwards, and two ℔ cent discount for cash.

TERMS—Notes or acceptance at sixty days, with exchange on New York, or discount of two per cent. for cash, if remitted within ten days from date of invoice. Payments to be made in New York Exchange, United States Treasury Notes, or their equivalent. No discount on bills of less amount than fifty dollars.

PIG IRON AND BLOOM MARKET. WEEKLY REVIEW.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, October 3, 1873.

The pig iron trade continues very quiet, and until financial matters become more settled, no material or permanent improvement can reasonably be looked for. The demand, as might be expected, is very meagre, being confined wholly to supplying immediate wants, and there is scarcely enough doing to establish quotations. It is true, the mills are all running, but they are buying just as little of the raw material as they possibly can help, their policy, for the time being, is to carry very limited stocks, and it will no doubt be rigidly adhered to while the money market continues in its present condition. Choice mill irons may be quoted nominally at $33⅜@34, 4 mos; white and mottled, $30@32; No. 1 Foundry, $38@40; No. 2, $33@34. Charcoal irons, $45@50 for warm, and $60@65 for cold blast.

Following sales were reported:

DRY GOODS.

NEW YORK, October 3.—The market for both cotton and woolen goods was quiet in first hands but a fair distribution of assorted merchandise was made by jobbers. Cotton goods are steady at unchanged prices. Cotton flannels and grain bags are in spirited demand. Corset jeans are in demand and irregular. Prints and ginghams are less active, but firm. Woolens for men's wear are quiet, but flannels and blankets are in fair request. Foreign and domestic dress fabrics are in steady demand. Shawls are fairly active.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
FRIDAY, October 3, 1873.

The market for both Crude and refined was reported considerably firmer, and as compared with yesterday prices have advanced. Crude was quoted at $1@1.02⅜ ℔ brl. at Parker, against sales on Wednesday, and, if we are not mistaken, on Thursday, at 85@90, an advance of 10@15c ℔ brl. Refined, as already stated, is firmer, also, and prices have advanced to 16c on spot in Philadelphia, and 15⅜@15⅜ for futures. It is said that stocks, both in Philadelphia and New York, are pretty well run down, and it is to be inferred that the supply is not equal to the demand, hence, notwithstanding the derangement in exchanges, prices are firmer and tending upward. We do not know how it is with Cleveland and other points, but it is certain that the shipments eastward from Pittsburgh during the past week have been comparatively light. It is said that the tonnage at New York, is much larger than expected, as quite a number of vessels which had been chartered, came in before they were looked for.

Oil barrels remain quiet and unchanged; countries, $2.10; city make, $2.15.

RIVER NEWS.

—A late New Orleans paper says: Business matters on the levee for the closing day of the week were about the dullest we have witnessed for years past: the late action taken by our banks has prostrated business to a fearful extent, so much so that packets, for the want of funds to leave port with, were compelled to cease running—the greatest wonder was that any boat was enabled to leave. But, notwithstanding the pressure, a small number managed to get off, some with scarcely money enough to buy fuel. The steamer Natchez could pay no bills yesterday, except by giving certified checks, and then could not in many instances make change. Parties who could not furnish change for a certified check were, as a matter of course, forced to lay their bill over; nor is this the extent of trouble produced by the present panic. But boats, especially like the Natchez, Pargoud, and R. E. Lee, and other packets in the cotton trade, can not leave port without the necessary funds to meet charges and other incidental expenses that may occur on the trip. It is certainly a lamentable state of affairs, and if it prevails one week longer, it will put a stop to any boat from leaving port.

—The steamer Katie P. Kountz, while lying at the Grand River Agency, recently, was visited by quite a number of the elite of the Sioux tribe who are coming in for winter quarters and government annuities. Among the party were chiefs Two Bear and Running Antelope, also other chiefs of less renown. The object of their visit soon became known through the negro interpreter Black Hawk. They desired to have a "select ball" on the "wata pata," or steamboat. This they had. Captain Braithwaite struck palms with the warriors, treated them to hot coffee and dinner. The old Chief addressed Braithwaite, and told him that he had been taught by his grandfather to be friendly with steamboat captains, and he would always get nice presents from them, and plenty of powder and ball. The Captain danced with several of the squaws, with whom he is a great favorite.

—Tuesday's St. Louis Democrat says: The papers contained a paragraph announcing the finding of the body of a man in our harbor. When found the body was floating bolt upright, and examinations disclosed several wounds and contusions on the body, one being a long cut on the thigh. Several boatmen looked at the corpse, and it is declared to be that of Pres. Stanford, a pilot in the St. Louis and Alton trade. He boarded in East St. Louis, and was not a member of a temperance Society. It is supposed that he got into a dispute close to the river, and was killed and thrown into the river. He is said to be a nephew of Major Brown.

—The following are the boats laid up at St. Louis for the want of water and business: City of Quincy, General Anderson, Chas Bodmann, P. W. Strader, Andy Johnson, Harry Johnson, Rob Roy, Josie, St. Johns, Commonwealth, Legal Tender, Pauline Carroll, Continental, Tom Jasper, Bismarck, Lady Lee, Belle of Shreveport, Atlantic, Mohawk, Future City, Savannah, John Kyle, City of Helena, Phil Sheridan, Utah, St. Joseph, Emma C. Elliott, Warner and barges, Mountaineer, Alice, Ruby, John A. Scudder, W. J. Lewis, Fanny Tatum, City of Alton, Dexter, Richmond, and about twenty barges of the M. T. V. Company.

—The new South American boat Cundinamarca, built at Cincinnati to run in the Magdalena river, between Baranquilla and Honda, will have a hard time to get out of the Ohio. This boat's crew consists of about twenty natives of South America, none of whom speak the English language, with the exception of the steward, who seems to be a very sprightly fellow. He says that the distance from Baranquilla to Honda is 500 miles, and that cabin passage between these points is $125.

—Steamer Nellie Peck left Fort Peck September 10; met Far West at Stevenson on the 15th, and Ida Stockdale on the 17th at Fort Rice; met the Silver Lake fifteen miles below the Yankton Agency on the 23d, and laid at Yankton all night; arrived at Sioux City on the morning of the 26th. The Nellie was sixteen days making the run from Peck to Sioux City. She brought down between 700 and 800 dry hides.

—The St. Paul Press says: There are several little boats aground at Pigs Eye, among which are Aunt Betsey and Wild Boy, which have been trying to come up the river for several days.—The steamer Little Fleta, a Red river packet, was lost up the Rio Grande in Texas, a few days ago. While on her way with a load of government stores she ran out over the bank and the river fell, so that she broke in two.

—Mr. Henry Dorman, of the Belle of Shreveport, is in Cincinnati. The yellow fever, left its stamp on his feature.

THE McMILLIN STEAM CAPSTAN IN COURT.

Preliminary Injunctions Granted.

In the U. S. Circuit Court before His Honor Judge McKennan, a motion was made on Saturday, September 27th, 1873, for a rule to show cause why an attachment should not issue against John L Rhoads and Adam Jacobs, Jr., for contempt of Court, by reason of the violation of injunction restraining them from the infringement of letters patent granted to Captain John S. McMillin on April 16th, 1867, for improvement in Steam Capstans. At the same time preliminary injunctions were also granted at the suit of John S. McMillin and others, for alleged infringement of the same patent against the following parties:

John F. Dravo and Marshall McDonald, owners of steamboat Fearless; the Pittsburgh, Brownsville & Geneva Packet Co., and Adam Jacobs, President; Frederick Rhoads and David Rhoads, owners of steamboat Traveler; J. L. McFeeters, L. M. Speer and W. F. Speer, owners of steamboat Nellie Speer; John L. Rhoads, John Cook and Thos. Cook, owners of steamer Exchange; James Matthews, owner of steamboats Blue Lodge and Three Lights; William H. Brown, owner of steamboat Alice Brown; Wm S. Evans, S. B. Coulson, Martin Coulson, John B. Dallas and S. H. Gilmore, owners of steamboat Western.

The claim of Captain McMillan's patent, on which these suits were brought is as follows:

"Rotating a capstan placed on deck of a boat by means of an auxiliary engine, when said engine and capstan are placed forward of the steam boilers of said boat, substantially as hereinbefore described, and for the purpose set forth."

The owners of the steamboat Western, one of the parties against whom suit was brought, were represented by Mr. George Shiras, Jr. He argued that the McMillan patent, as construed by the Court in the case of McMillan vs. Barcly was restricted to the use of the "nigger engine" for hoisting freight in combination with the capstan, and that the great merit of the invention was in making that engine available for the operation of the capstan without changing its position, and without interfering with its ordinary use for the hoisting of freight, &c., and he contended that the defendants did not use the "nigger engine" for operating the capstan, but an independent engine placed in the hold of the vessel, and in a different position from that ordinarily occupied by the "nigger engine," there was no infringement of the patent. He also claimed that inasmuch as the gearing employed for connecting the engine and capstan was different from that described in the McMillan patent, not being beveled gearing, it was not only an improvement on the McMillan patent, but was a substantially different device, which was not covered by that patent, and for these reasons he claimed that the defendants had not infringed.

Mr. William Bakewell appeared for the complainant, and argued in favor of the granting of the injunction. He said:

It is not to be supposed that the defendants knowing, as they did, the previous decision of this Court affirming the validity of the patent, would put up exactly the same construction or exactly the same devices described in the McMillan patent, but in this case the differences are very slight, and the imitation a very bald one indeed.

This is manifestly an attempted evasion of the patent. The defendants have gone to the trouble of putting in a separate engine for the purpose, as they think, of evading the patent. Now, Mr. McMillan's patent says expressly that a nigger engine, or any other engine other than the main engine, may be used. We are not restricted by the patent to the use of the "nigger engine" alone. And as to the gearing between the engine and capstan, although there is a slight difference as to the manner in which the teeth of the cog wheels mesh into each other, which they claim is an improvement, yet even if it be an improvement, it is one which clearly embodies McMillin's invention, and is therefore an infringement.

His Honor Judge McKennan held that so far as the result to be accomplished was concerned, the function of the special engine used by defendants, and the "nigger engine" of the patent, was substantially the same. In other words, the defendants in this case arrange their engine which works the capstan so that it cannot perform the functions which the "nigger engine" in McMillin's patent does, of hoisting the freight, but so far as the result aimed at by him is concerned, there is no difference in the operation between the two. Nor is there any substantial difference in the position of the engines. They are in both cases forward of the main engine; and that is an essential condition of McMillin's patent. And as to the gearing, that employed by the defendants is an obvious and ordinary equivalent of that described in the McMillin patent.

His Honor was well satisfied, from the inspection of the model and the knowledge acquired of the patent in previous cases, that there was a clear infringement.

Injunctions were granted in all the cases above mentioned.

NATION'S BANK

FOR SAVINGS,

NO. 51 NORTH DIAMOND,

ALLEGHENY.

This is the only chartered Savings Bank in Allegheny. The capital is One Hundred Thousand Dollars with the privilege of increasing it to Two Hundred Thousand. Its money is loaned in first mortgages on property worth at least double the amount of the mortgages, so that there is no possibility of loss by the failure of individuals.

The charter makes the Deposits the first lien on the mortgages held by the Bank, thus affording the amplest Security to Depositors. An additional advantage afforded by the charter of this Bank is that married women and minor children can deposit in their own name, and it cannot be touched by husband, parent or guardian.

The highest Interest allowed on Time Deposits.

The Bank is open daily from 9 till 3 o'clock, and on Saturday evenings from 7 till 9.

HOME NEWS.

Prohibition Convention.

On Monday commencing at half past ten o'clock in to the morning the Prohibitionists will hold a Convention in Lafayette Hall. In the forenoon Rev. John Russell of Michigan will address the meeting on the evils of intemperance. During the afternoon it is expected that some very important business in connection with the cause will then brought up. In the evening a grand temperance rally will be held, when Mr. James Alexander Mowatt of Brooklyn, New York, will make an address in behalf of the cause. A brass band is promised and seats are reserved for ladies. The prize flag will be on exhibition. All are cordially invited.

Lively Runaway.

The pedestrians of Sixth street yesterday afternoon were somewhat frightened by two horses that came dashing over the Suspension bridge at break neck speed. They parted by running astride of a lamp post at this end of the bridge, one of the animals took to the pavement and the other kept the street, where they pursued their course. One of them turned up Penn avenue and the other Liberty street.

It seems the horses were left by their driver to stand on Federal street, while he attended to an errand for the lady who was in the carriage. By some means the animals became frightened and ran away over the bridge to this side. The lady was not hurt.

KILLED AT SWISSVALE.

A Man Struck by the Cincinnati Express No. 2.

Yesterday afternoon, about half past two o'clock, a fatal accident occurred at Swissvale. The Cincinnati Express No. 2, which was an hour or more behind time, was approaching at the rate of about twenty five miles an hour, when a man whose name we could not learn, attempted to cross the track in front of the train, when he was struck by the locomotive and instantly killed, his body being most fearfully mutilated. His remains were picked up and conveyed into the depot, and afterwards removed to an undertaking establishment and Coroner West notified to hold an inquest. Deceased was evidently a laborer, about thirty five years of age.

OBITUARY.

Death of Mrs. Medora Hall.

To the Editors of the Pittsburgh Gazette:

The subject of this brief sketch, Mrs. Medora Hall, who breathed her last on Friday afternoon at the residence of her parents, No. 53 Market street, after a long and severe illness, was one whose early life was adorned with many Christian graces. Mrs. Hall connected herself with the Wylie Avenue A. M. E. Church and Sabbath School at the age of sixteen, where she labored as an earnest and devoted teacher and Christian disciple for more than nine years. She worked faithfully in the Lord's vineyard until the fatal disease took hold upon her, and amid all her suffering she patiently waited until her deliverance came.

In the death of Mrs. Hall, the Church has lost an exemplary Christian, her husband, a kind and devoted wife, her parents a kind, loving and obedient daughter, and the social circle a genial and faithful associate. May the assurance which she gave in her last hour of a happier estate with her Redeemer be a solace to her sorrow stricken husband and relatives, and the large circle of friends who share their grief, and bow to the will of "Him who doeth all things well."

A FRIEND.

SEWING MACHINE DISCUSSION.

Two Agents at Logger-Heads.

Smith and Brown are rival sewing machine agents. Smith represents the double back action over balance, and Brown represents the conglomerated essence of simplicity machine. It is perfectly impossible to write the capabilities of these wonderful machines. One had drawn 10,896 gold medals at State fairs and through lotteries, and the other has received 10,897 gold medals. The last one was given through an error of the judges. These machines got no diplomas; they are so good, that they always drew gold medals. Well, yesterday these two agents met at the same house. Their machines were duly discussed, and the lady disgusted. Finally, in distraction, she bought Brown's machine, and left Smith disconcerted. Brown drove home happy, and Smith was in the meditative mood. They met on the Fifth avenue hump in front of the Court House. They were both in their wagons. "Well, Smith, I beat you this time." "Yes, you did; but how?" "Well, square." Smith didn't call his antagonist a liar, but he insinuated that all that was uttered by the opposition company was false. "My machine can beat yours every time." "No, sir; you lie." "I'll bet you five dollars it will." The conversation about this time became interesting, and as there was quite a jam of cars, and a crowd attracted, a policeman politely invited them to move on, and they moved.

NORTH SIDE MATTERS.

Meeting of the Allegheny Street Committee.

The Allegheny Street Committee met on Thursday evening and approved the pay rolls for the Eastern and Western districts, the former amounting to $1,496 90, and the latter to $1,940 25. Miscellaneous bills were also approved to the amount of $1,500.

The City Engineer was instructed to advertise for proposals for grading and paving Cross street; also to advertise for proposals for building a sewer on Pennsylvania avenue from Beaver avenue to Manhattan street.

The ordinance for the repairing of Lacock street, which has been referred to the Committee by Councils was acted upon unfavorably and the committee decided to report against the measure.

The Western District Street Commissioners were instructed to notify the property-owners to open an alley between the Gas and Chemical Works, in the Fifth ward, for public use. It is alleged by the residents in the neighborhood that a public alley has always existed there but the property-holders have closed it up, hence the instruction of the Committee.

The contract for building a main brick sewer of seven and a half feet on Madison avenue and East street, from Concord street to the city line, was awarded to Charles Faulkner. The cost of this sewer, which is a very large one, will be about sixty thousand dollars, and it will not be commenced till next spring.

ROAD COMMITTEE.

Regular Meeting Yesterday.

Yesterday afternoon the Road Committee of Pittsburgh Councils held their regular monthly meeting. The following assessments were approved: Grading of Anderson street from Iowa street to Herron avenue; grading, paving and curbing of Grove street from Centre avenue to Rose street; grading of Torrens street from the Pennsylvania Railroad to Frankstown avenue.

The petition for a change of grade of Devilliers street was referred to a sub committee. The petition for the repair of the board walk on Fifth avenue from Brady to Murphy street was referred to a sub committee in conjunction with the Road Commissioner.

The ordinances for the grading, paving and curbing of Rebecca street from Penn avenue to first alley south of Penn avenue and for grading, paving and curbing of Madison street from Thirty-third to Jefferson streets were recommended to Councils for passage.

A resolution was passed instructing the City Engineer to issue to C. J. Schultz estimates for the work as it progresses on the Four Mile Run bridge, to bear interest from date of issue.

A resolution to repair Hazelwood avenue, between Second avenue and the river, was passed.

A resolution was passed directing the Mayor to issue the bond of the city in the matter of the opening Second avenue, and that the City Attorney be directed to file the same in the proper Courts.

The Twenty-first ward sewer contract was awarded to Mr. J. J. Boothe.

The contract for building the bridge on Second avenue, over Nine Mile Run was awarded to Mr. R. J. Bradley.

The following pay-rolls for the month of September were then approved:

Roads—First District	$810 83
Roads—Second District	2,384 30
Roads—Third District	747 99
Contractors pay-roll	2,010 86
Total	$5,953 98

The Committee then adjourned.

WALES WAILING.

A Nice Game Spoiled—A Prisoner's Little Plan Interferred With—How a Projected Jail-Breaking was Prevented.

Most of our readers perhaps will remember Mr. Wm. B. Wales. He is the young gentleman who with one Dudley, figured a few months ago in connection with the robbery of the mails between Pittsburgh and Buffalo and all along the Lake Shore. Mr. Wales and his companion were finally caught, and have had their freedom curtailed since that time by orders of the Government. Mr. Wales for several months past has been enjoying the gracious hospitalities of Warden Smith at his mansion on the hill, and it was supposed was duly grateful for his privileges. Word, however, reached the United States authorities yesterday that he not as well satisfied as had been thought, and that he even contemplated leaving the house that evening without bidding his friends farewell. This induced District Attorney Swoope to visit Warden Smith yesterday morning, and have Wales and his two prison companions removed from the cell which they occupied. The cell was then thoroughly overhauled, but no trace could be found of an intention to "make a break." The searchers were about turning away when Mr. Swoope noticed the end of a piece of cord protruding from the upper edge of Wales' trunk. There was not more than an eighth of an inch of the cord visible but upon catching it the string lengthened and a small steel saw made its appearance. It had been concealed between the lining and the leather of the trunk. It was made by Disston & Co., of Boston, of the best watch spring steel, and was of the finest description. A further search around the apartment developed a bottle of sulphuric acid, the use of which was obvious. Wales' plan was clear—with the acid to first eat a hole in the iron plate of his cell sufficient to admit of the free working of the saw, and then in a few hours he could have sawed a piece out of the iron sufficient to have permitted his escape. The acid was so strong that, when a nail was put into it, the iron was dissolved in a minute.

With these evidences of his plan, Mr. Swoope waited upon Wales and had an interview with him. It was an affecting interview—affected Wales at least, considerably. He denied his guilt at first, and was the picture of innocence until the saw and acid were exhibited, when he melted down.

The District Attorney has given orders to have no one admitted to see Wales without an order from him. It is but proper to state that Warden Smith and his deputy, together with Wales' counsel, are entirely exculpated from blame in the matter, but the U. S. authorities have information as to who was Wales confederate, and at the proper time will make the interesting revelation.

AMONG THE CHURCHES.

Brief Notes of Matters, Personal and Otherwise.

At Burgettstown the United Presbyterians are to have a $20,000 church.

Many of our local ministers will attend the Evangelical Alliance meeting in New York.

Bishop Simpson was in the city a few days ago. He is improving in health, although not entirely restored.

The Rev. S. B. Reed, who has been absent for six months on account of sickness, has returned to his home and flock in fine health and spirits.

Rev. Dr. Daniel Curry, the accomplished and vigorous writer who conducts the New York Advocate and Journal was in the city last week.

Dr Pershing, of the Pittsburgh Female College, will be present to officiate at the dedication of the West Clearfield M. E. Church to-morrow.

Preaching in the Central U. P. Church, Allegheny, to-morrow at half past ten A. M. and three P. M., by the pastor. Sabbath school meets as usual, at half past one P. M.

All parties interested in the re-location of the boarding tents and the laying out of new lots on Tarentum camp ground, will meet on the ground on Monday morning, the 6th inst., at 9 o'clock.

An industrial school in connection with the Green street M. E. Mission, Allegheny, will be organized at the school on Green street this afternoon, by the ladies connected with the Mission.

Twelve persons were admitted on last Sabbath to communion in the Third U. P. Church of this city. We are pleased to learn that the pews are eagerly sought for and rapidly taken up. We refer our readers to the religious column for the notice thereof.

This week has been observed as a "week of prayer" by the Methodist churches of this city. A meeting has been held each evening at the First Methodist Church on Fifth avenue, conducted by the pastor of one of the churches. There have been large audiences in attendance and very interesting services.

The fourth anniversary of the Soho Presbyterian Mission School will take place in the Chapel building on Second avenue, near Brady street, to-morrow afternoon at 2½ o'clock. The exercises are expected to be of an interesting character. The annual report will be read, and addresses from several ministers are promised.

At the late meeting of the Presbytery of Pittsburgh, the following pastoral relations were dissolved: Rev. John W. Little and the Church of Bloomfield; Rev. Charles Hedges and Grace Memorial Church; Rev. P. J. Cummings and the Church of North Branch, that he may devote himself entirely to the Church of Mt. Carmel.

Rev. Dr. Herrick Johnson, of Philadelphia, formerly of Pittsburgh, has been chosen to the Professorship of Sacred Rhetoric and Pastoral Theology in Auburn Theological Seminary, at the last meeting of the Trustees—the vacancy being caused by the resignation of the Rev. Dr. Condit. The Professors' salaries were increased, at the same meeting, from $1,750 to $3,000.

Rev. Dr Murray, the pastor of the First Methodist church on Fifth avenue, has been delivering a series of sermons founded on the Parable of the "Prodigal Son," on Sabbath evenings, in his church. They have been heard by large audiences with much interest. The one delivered on last Sabbath evening was on "The young man's riot and wretchedness. The third sermon of the series will be delivered on to-morrow evening.

Trinity M. E. Church (Rev. T. McCleary, pastor), corner of Smallman and Twenty fifth streets, having been thoroughly repaired, frescoed, painted and newly carpeted, will be re-opened for divine service to-morrow. Rev. Dr. Miller, P. E., Rev. W. Lynch, of Beaver, and other ministers are expected to be present to conduct the services. There will be preaching at 10½ A. M. and 7 P. M. Children's jubilee at 2½ P. M.

Some time ago Rev. M. W. Jacobus, D. D., of the Allegheny Theological Seminary, addressed a circular to the Professors, in the other Theological Seminaries of the Church, viz: Princeton, Union (New York), Auburn, Lane, Chicago, Danville and San Francisco, asking a conference at his house, 318 Ridge street, Allegheny, on Tuesday, December 30th. Replies have been received from all of these, excepting one, responding most cordially to the invitation.

Rev. John Russell, of Michigan, one of the most popular temperance lecturers of the day, will preach a temperance sermon to-morrow morning at 10½ o'clock A. M., in the First Presbyterian Church, Arch street, Allegheny City, Dr. E. E. Swift, pastor. In the afternoon at 3 o'clock, in the Second U. P. Church, Sixth avenue, Pittsburgh, Rev. T. H. Hanna, pastor, and in the evening at 7½ o'clock, in the M. E. Church, Temperanceville, Rev. R. T. Miller, pastor.

J. A. Hoffheins, Stated Clerk, makes the following announcement: "The fourth annual meeting of the Synod of Pittsburgh, of the Reformed Church in the United States, will be held in St. Paul's Reformed Church, of Titusville, Pa., commencing on Thursday after the 18th Sunday after Trinity, (October 16), A. D. 1873, at 7½ o'clock, P. M. According to resolution of Synod at its last annual session, it will this year again meet in convention, and be composed of all the ministers within its bounds, and one elder from each pastoral charge."

The Methodist Recorder asks: "Have Protestant congregations in Pittsburgh the right to worship on the Lord's day without being disturbed by a band of music in the near neighborhood? If it is lawful for a band of music to annoy a congregation of worshippers on Sabbath evening, is it courteous to do so? Does the good of the community or the welfare of any Christian church warrant such a disturbance? The First Methodist church, on Fifth avenue, between Grant and Smithfield streets, is interested in the proper answer to these questions."

The Rector of St. Peters Episcopal Church Pittsburgh, has issued the following notice to his congregation: "Dear Brethren—The people of Shreveport, where "the pestilence walketh in darkness and the sickness destroyeth at noon day," so fearfully, have made appeals to the country for pecuniary help. To every charitable and Christian heart, such a call surely cannot be in vain. I therefore give notice that the Communion collection next Sunday, October 5th, will be appropriated to the alleviation of the distress in that plague-stricken city, and ask your prayers and liberal contributions in behalf of the sufferers."

The recent improvements at Emory M. E. Church cost $12,000. A new roof has been put on, and the auditorium handsomely frescoed, the side walls a creamy tint and the dome of a bluish flesh color. The seats have been brightly varnished, giving them a mahogany finish. The interior of the Sunday school and chapel has been also beautifully frescoed. The wood work of both rooms has been repainted, and otherwise beautified. It was re-opened last Sabbath. Rev. Dr. Davidson preaching in the morning, and Rev. J. F. Jones at night. This congregation numbers about 300 members, and is flourishing. The Sunday school is prospering under the superintendence of Mr. P. H. Laufman, assisted by Mr. Alex. Bates. On the day of opening, Dr. Davidson organized a mission Sunday school at Negley's Run, two miles distant, numbering about forty scholars and teachers. Messrs. Alex. Bates, David E. Bayard and others were present, assisting.

AMUSEMENTS.

Pittsburgh Opera House.—Last evening, the occasion of Mr. Barrett's benefit, this house was crowded with a select and intelligent audience. Mr. Barrett enacted "Eliot Gray" in "Rosedale" with the same cast as on the previous evening. The play was remarkably well cast. Mr. Ellsler, as "Miles McKenna," shared fairly the honors with the star. Miss Katie Baker, in her impersonation, shows that she possesses remarkable talent, and is destined to make her mark in the profession. To-day, for the last time, at the matinee, "Rosedale" will be presented, and this evening will close Mr. Barrett's very successful engagement, with "Julius Cæsar." On Monday, Dominick Murray, "Escaped from Sing Sing."

Academy of Music.—This theatre was well filled last evening on the occasion of the benefit of the Chapman sisters. They acquitted themselves in their accustomed manner, and Mr. Harry Allen was as gushing as usual. This afternoon the sisters appear in "Cindrella," with Mr. Allen, and a splendid cast. This evening will positively close their engagement. A good bill is promised. On Monday, the Kathi Lanner great Coreographic Combination and the Peak family in a novel and original entertainment.

Where the Best Can Be Had.

In the purchase of furniture there are two points of special observance. First, that it be of a neat pattern, and next that it be made in such a manner as to make it serviceable. On the latter point purchasers must rely to a great measure on the representations of the manufacturer. And just here, let us say that Messrs. J. Meyer & Son, Nos. 412 and 414 Penn street, (east of Railroad Crossing) are men of undoubted character for honesty of representation, and purchasers can rely on their furniture as being of the substantial character.

How to Lighten Woman's Labor.

If "time is money," then everything that tends to facilitate labor is a positive pecuniary benefit to mankind. The best sewing machine or churn is not a "good strong woman," as experience proves. So Sapolio, in enabling one woman to easily do as much cleaning of every kind in one day as two women can do in two days with the scrubbing brush and soap, is a positive blessing to the human race. No woman who has once used it will ever use anything else as a substitute. Sold by all dealers. The cheapest as well as the best cleansing substitute in the world. d&S

E. J. Unger, Esq., of the Union Depot Hotel, has returned from a short hunting trip, and, as a consequence, looks much improved. Thirty-seven squirrels is the smallest number he has shot in one day on the Summit, and it was not a good day for squirrel shooting either.

Hon. Daniel Sturgeon and daughter have been on a visit to their friends in this and adjoining counties. Dr. Sturgeon represented this State in the United States Senate for a number of years, and must now have passed the allotted age of three score and ten. He resides in Uniontown, Fayette county, where he is esteemed by all classes and conditions in life.

Fall Suits.

Now that we are being favored will cool weather, it is time there was a change in our garments to suit the season. Gentlemen who are about changing their raiment will find a very choice assortment of fall goods at the well-known house of Wm. Hespenheide & Co., No. 50 Sixth street, near Penn avenue. This establishment has long been popular with gentlemen who desire to dress well, and yet are especially set against the flashy, shoddy style affected now a days by certain classes. Hespenheide & Co. do not deal in "loud" goods, so to speak, but take particular pains to have none but the neatest goods in store, and to make up only in a style that no gentleman can find fault with. They guarantee every article to be as represented for quantity of cloth, and for appearances, the work will speak for itself.

They have now laid in their assortment of goods for fall suits, and are ready to respond promptly to orders for business or dress suits. Their terms are very reasonable, and their work, we can guarantee, will please every reasonable patron.

MODOC-ED McGUIRE.

A Serious Charge—A Felonious Assault Committed While Drunk—A Fire Shovel and Its Effect.

Yesterday morning Frank McGuire came before Mayor Blackmore and there did a horrible tale unfold. He on Thursday evening was in a saloon at Frankstown, innocently diverting his time by playing "seven-up," "poker," "penny ante," etc. While in this blissful state, John Reese, without any recent reasoning, came in and made for him. "He smelt the thirst of battle from afar," for in one hand he held a fire shovel and in the other a glass of whisky. Sad to relate, the whisky soon disappeared and the shovel commenced to dance around McGuire's head in a very lively manner. McGuire, who as he asserts, yielded to the force of circumstances, and for the time being deserted the cares of life, only to waken with a checker-board head. He was consequently in a thoughtful mood, his mind unconsciously returning always to the broken head. Upon the information made officer Dilleherty, with promptness and dispatch brought Reese before the Mayor. Reese took a calm review of the situation, and concluded that if anything was wrong on Thursday night he must have been drunk, and the Mayor thought so, and McGuire thought so, and the spectators they thought so, and the reporters they—kept their thoughts to themselves, until the Mayor held Reese in $1,500 bail on the charge of felonious assault and battery for Court, and in default was sent to jail; then the reporters thought it would make a good item.

A Word of Advice to the People, that if Heeded will Work Incalculable Good During these Panicky Times

The comparative stringency in money matters and scarcity of currency in the banks has been caused by depositors drawing their money from bank and hoarding it up at their homes, thus not only withdrawing their money from use and circulation, but offering a tempting bait to burglars and thieves. Now, how to get this money back again into the channels of trade and commerce is the problem that puzzled the wisest heads for some days, and after numerous meetings of bank presidents and other prominent financiers, it has been suggested as the only likely way of accomplishing this desirable result, to offer the public extraordinary inducements to come and buy the celebrated Taylor & Farley Celestes Organs, and the World Renowned Bradbury and Decker and Barnes Pianos, and, with this object in view, S. Hamilton & Co., 51 Fifth avenue, have reduced the prices of these popular instruments so as to bring them within the reach of all. It will surprise you to call at Messrs. S. H. & Co.'s and learn how extraordinarily low they are selling, either for cash, or on payments, but especially for cash. No such opportunity may ever again present itself to buy a first-class instrument so low. So by all means embrace the present chance to save yourself $50 or $100, and, also, put your money in circulation where it will certainly do the most good.

A Golden Opportunity to Become Rich—Safe and Profitable Investment—West Homestead Lots

The Homestead Bank, which has gained an enviable reputation for liberality, reliability and thorough security, offers to investors to-day a safe and sure speculation in the sale of the best suburban property now in the market. The inquiry for the Homestead lots was so good that they were all taken up before the demand was supplied, which induced the Homestead Bank to purchase additional property for the accommodation of their patrons. They secured a very valuable purchase, before the opening of the P. V. & C. R. R and are enabled to sell it for less than adjoining lands can be bought at wholesale. We predict a rush for these lots equal to that which characterized the Homestead lots. Being within a short distance of the city and so easy of access, they must, in a very brief period of time, double and triple their value, so that they afford to speculators, or those who may buy for building purposes, the basis of a sure and profitable investment. Our richest men were made so by the increase in real estate, and here is an opportunity for others to go and do likewise. The terms are easy. A free train leaves South Pittsburgh to-day at 1 o'clock for the sale.

A Marriage Certificate.

An Irishman on the witness stand was asked by the Judge if he had a marriage certificate. He displayed to the Court a large scar on his head, where his wife had struck him with a broom. Now, this we are sure was one of Mardorff's brooms, because no other broom is made strong enough to scar the head. The Mardorff broom has gained a reputation for being the most desirable broom in the market, and housewives are advised that at the year's end quite a snug little sum of money can be saved by the use of this broom. Ask your grocer for a Mardorff.

A Wonderful Sewing Machine.

A machine that cuts and fits garments, and then sews them without any manual aid! Sews on buttons, makes button holes, cuts down old clothes and "makes them over for the boys." But the WEED comes nearest to it of any in the market; and it will pay all our lady readers to give it a call. If you want to escape all annoyance and fatigue, buy a Weed. If you want your work done in the very best manner, buy a Weed! If you want to be satisfied that you are exactly right in making your selection, buy a Weed!!! Rooms No. 116 Market street.

"WANTED—A LADY CLERK."

The Great Want at the Postoffice—The Tyrant Man Displaced—A Lady at the Ladies' Window—The New Broom Still in Vigorous Use—Postmaster Negley Files His Bond.

Yesterday morning United States District Attorney Swoope was indulging in a pleasant reverie, while sitting in a seductive easy chair, in the luxurious quarters kindly furnished him by Uncle Samuel, when

> "Suddenly there came a tapping
> As if some one gently rapping,
> Rapping at his office door."

The versatile youth of ten summers who performs the arduous duties of general utility man about the establishment, hastened to respond to the summons, and upon opening the door, revealed a representative of the gentler sex, who stepped inside the apartment and with charming volubility proceeded to explain the object of her visit, an explanation which was not half completed before she was joined by a score of others. The immediate cause of his being thus highly honored was soon made clear to the man of law. It had all been brought about by the announcement that the gallant Major Petherbridge, the gentleman who is using the new broom in the post office just now, desired in his work of reorganization to remove to another position the mail biped who usually figures at the Ladies window, and to fill the vacancy with a representative of the gentler sex, if "a suitable person could be found." The Major himself after the announcement was inaccessible, and the next person of interest to the applicants was the U. S. Attorney, who was by force of circumstances compelled to devote a few hours to a morning levee, attended by not less than a hundred, and at which each attendant presented claims for consideration.

The duty of making a selection especially where such good material presented itself,—and the Attorney says of a truth he never had so many who were worthy appealing for an office,—was a matter of considerable difficulty, and it was not until several hours after all had gone that a decision was reached—the province of the District Attorney only being to recommend after hearing all claims. The selection at last made was that of Mrs. Catharine Blakely, a widow lady, and one in every way qualified for the position. Mrs. Blakely is the widow of a soldier who was killed at Chattanooga. His term of enlistment had expired, but just as he was discharged, an engagement sprung up, and he refused to leave his company. He went into the engagement and lost his life, leaving to his widow the care and support of a family of small children.

Mrs. Blakely is the sister-in-law of Gen. Blakely of Allegheny, and bears the very highest recommendations for fitness for the responsible duties of the position to which Major Petherbridge has appointed her. The salary of the office is $1000, and the new apointee enters upon her duties at once.

BONDS FILED.

Yesterday morning Maj. Negley filed his bond, which was accepted. He was then formally given charge of the office. The names of his bondsmen are not made public, but they are three of our wealthy land owners, representing an aggregate wealth of one million dollars. The work of thoroughly organizing the force in the office will still go on, and nothing be left undone to make the Pittsburgh Postoffice hereafter effective in all its departments.

"LITTLE FRAUD."

The Lad Frank Woods—His Wonderful Success in Working upon the Sympathies of Policemen.

Frank Woods furnishes another little item this morning, and he turns out to be a first class little fraud. It will be remembered that on Sunday evening last he came to officer Cronin, of the Allegheny police force, and asked to be locked up, and told a very sad "cock and bull" story. The officer took him to City Hall, and there he stayed. On Wednesday he was still there, and his engaging manners won the sympathies of the night force, who raised a subscription for him to buy a suit of clothes, of which he stood sadly in need—$13.20 were raised. Yesterday two detectives went around with him and procured him a very neat suit of clothes, two flannel shirts, two pairs of socks, a hat and a pair of boots. The dealers in these goods had been told the lad's sad tale, and they almost gave their goods away. The officers then took the lad to a barber's, where they had him bathed and also had his hair cut, and then put him in his new suit. He was then again taken to the Mayor's office, where a colored man had just been inquiring for a boy of Frank's description. Just as he was going out the party came in. "Halloa, Frank!" said the colored man, "don't you know me?" The man then said he was the boy's uncle. The officer then asked Frank if he knew that man. He replied that "he was William Woods." "Any other name?" "Yes; uncle Billy." The boy is very white and very intelligent. Mr. Woods stated that Frank's father, who was a white man, is dead, but that his mother, who is a mulatto, is alive, in West Virginia. Frank, he said, was a bad boy, and had a good home, but ran away. He also has numerous friends in Allegheny. The officers felt so angry for being sold that they locked the boy up till this morning, when the charge of vagrancy will probably be brought against him.

European Steamship Arrivals Yesterday. A dispatch received at Max Shamberg's European Steamship and Telegraph Office, at No. 163 Smithfield street, announces the arrival of the Anchor line steamer India at New York; Anchor line steamer Columbia at Moville.

A New Kind of "Run."

The number of persons in front of the counter of the Smithfield Savings Bank might lead the casual observer to the belief that depositors were checking out their funds, but the reverse of this is the case, for persons who never deposited before are now depositing here, and those who were patrons before are now depositing the more, each class having become assured of the sterling soundness of this bank. The Smithfield Savings Bank is extremely liberal in its inducements to depositors, and its financial affairs are managed with an eye-sight to safe, secure, and politable investment. Its officers are men of excellent business qualities, of known and undoubted integrity, and their financial qualifications are A No. 1. Depositors in the Smithfield Savings Bank can rest in absolute security.

OF THE Homestead Bank.

Auction Sales of the Best Surburban Properties Now For Sale in the County—60x120 Feet, and One to Five Acre Lots, in the West Addition to Homestead—Saturday, October 4, at 1:30 P. M.

Terms—One-fifth cash; balance in four annual payments, with interest.

This magnificent property having been purchased before the opening of the railroad and before the great sale at Homestead, in 1871, was secured at a price that enables the Bank to make a satisfactory profit while selling it for less than adjoining lands can now be bought at wholesale. There was never a surer speculation than buyers at this sale will have.

Free Train leaves South Pittsburgh Station at 1 o'clock P. M., sharp.

Also, 80x150 feet and One to Three Acre Lots at Homestead Park, Monday Afternoon, October 6th. Special Trains from Union Depot at 1 o'clock P. M. Sharp.

In the face of extravagant, not to say preposterous and mendacious claims put forth for properties in no way comparable to Homestead Park, we shall attempt no description of its beauties or advantages, but simply ask all who contemplate suburban investment, either for use or speculation, TO COME OUT AND LOOK AT IT, and we challenge intelligent criticism not only of the property, but of the assertion that the likelihood of LARGE PROFIT TO PURCHASERS is greater at Homestead Park than at any other equally distant property now in the market.

Also, 60x120 feet, and 1 to 3 Acre Lots, at Homestead Terrace, on Monday afternoon, October 13. Special train on A. V. R. R. at 1 o'clock P. M. Sharp.

Accessible from the the city by the A. V. R. R. and the new driving road, Wildwood avenue, HOMESTEAD TERRACE is destined to become a center of suburban improvement. It is, in truth, the first eligible site for a village outside the city, and is two miles nearer the city than Verona or any of the suburbs of that village.

To all whose business will permit a residence on the A. V. R. R., the TERRACE offers advantages not to be found further away from the city, where as much is asked for 25x100—2,500 square feet—as will buy 60x120—7,200 square feet—at Homestead Terrace.

The terms of sale at Homestead Park and Homestead Terrace is one-tenth cash, balance in 9 equal payments without interest. Second mortgage privilege to those who build; free life insurance to those of suitable age and health.

A. PATTERSON,
Secretary.

HOMESTEAD
AND WEST FARM.

Quarter Acres, Half Acres, One to Three and Five Acre Lots at Auction, Saturday Afternoon, October 4th.

There never was a surer speculation or a more delightful place for rural residence. NO DESCRIPTION CAN DO IT JUSTICE. Take an hour's recreation and see for yourself. It is worth the time of any one to go and see it, and it will pay a hundred-fold to those who are looking for investment. Free train from South Pittsburgh station, on Virginia & Charleston Railroad, at 1 o'clock, P. M., sharp.

Homestead Park

Is now reached in twenty minutes from the south end of the Monongahela bridge by the P. C. & St. L. Railway, and by the driving road from the south end of the Point bridge, to be built by the city, the time will not be greater. Exquisite building sites, from a half acre to three or four acres, can be bought now in the "Park" at from one-tenth to one fifth the price demanded for equally accessible lands in the East Liberty Valley. When the Point bridge is completed (in one or two years at the most), property in this locality must quadruple in value. If you are looking for a speculation, go to the public sale at the Park on Monday afternoon.

Silver-Plated Castors, Forks, Spoons, &c., &c. The best place to buy them is at Evans' Department Store, 59 Fifth avenue.

Children's hats a specialty at Graham & McGregors' 46 Federal street, Allegheny, one square below Railroad depots.

THE TONIC OF THE PERIOD.

This is a trying season to persons deficient in stamina and out of health. To rally their physical energies by the most approved artificial means is a duty they owe to themselves. Foremost among the tonics and alteratives of the age stands Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. It is a vegetable stimulant and corrective, against which no tenable objection can be urged. There is no risk in recommending it as the best preparation in existence for renovating an enfeebled and broken down system. The most valuable medicinal products that nature has ever yielded to botanical research are blended in this famous elixir, and its stimulating basis is recognized in our public hospitals as the purest of all the varieties of distilled liquors. For general debility, nervous weakness, dyspepsia, constipation, rheumatism, biliousness and intermittent fevers it is a positive specific.

MARRIED.

LIETMANN—GERWIG—On Thursday evening, October 2d, 1873, at the residence of the bride's parents, Perry street, Allegheny City, by the Rev. Carl Schilling, Mr. J. H. LIETMANN, of Pittsburgh, to Miss ELIZA, eldest daughter of Mr. Henry Gerwig.

DIED:

MATTHEWS—On Friday, October 3d, at Henderson, Ky., Capt. CHARLES MATTHEWS.

Funeral notice in afternoon and Sunday papers.

HALL—On Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock, Mrs. MEDORA HALL, wife of Richard A. Hall, in the 26th year of her age.

> In that blest abode eternal,
> While robed angels calmly wait,
> There to meet the loved Medora,
> Entering Heaven's golden gate.

The funeral will take place from the residence of Rev. John Peck, No. 53 Market street, on SABBATH AFTERNOON, at 3 o'clock. The friends of the family are invited to attend.

☞ ALEXANDER AIKEN, UNDERTAKER, No. 166 FOURTH AVENUE. Coffins of all kinds, Shrouds, Crape, Gloves and every description of Funeral Furnishing Goods furnished. Agent for Raymond & Co.'s Patent Metallic Burial Cases. Rooms open day and night. Hearses and Carriages furnished.

FOR SALE—REAL ESTATE
FIFTH AVENUE
AND
WOOD STREET PROPERTY
FOR SALE.

A sale in partition in the estate of Alex. McClurg, deceased.

3 Lots on Fifth avenue, adjoining Dispatch buildings, 20 feet front (each) and 120 feet deep, with the buildings occupied as stores.

2 Lots, 18 feet each, fronting on Virgin alley, 120 feet (immediately in rear of above Lots,) with buildings.

3 Lots, 18 feet each front on Wood street, near 4th avenue, 90 feet deep, with 5 story buildings, occupied as business houses, with Hall above. Known as Lafayette Hall.

1 Lot, 30 feet front on Fourth avenue, four stories, building occupied as offices.

To capitalists and business men here is one of the best chances that has been offered for a long time to make a good investment that will pay largely on the amount invested, at the same time the property is increasing in value, as all who know the property know it to be among the most valuable in the city.

Will be sold at a reasonable price and on good terms to close up the estate. Apply to
